STANDARDS OF KAPPA ALPHA THETA

*Adopted at Asheville Convention
July 1934*

FRATERNITY PROGRESS is dependent upon fraternities becoming an integral part of the educational and social life of colleges and universities.

To become such an integral part of the educational system, a fraternity must make a positive contribution to the main purpose of each institution where it has a chapter. This obligates a fraternity to promote the best personal development of its members, physically, socially, intellectually, spiritually. Therefore, Kappa Alpha Theta endorses and pledges itself to forward the attainment of this platform.

1. The objectives and activities of Kappa Alpha Theta chapters shall be in harmonious accord with the aims and purposes of the universities where they are chartered.
2. In college relationships the first loyalty and responsibility of every Theta chapter member shall be to the university.
3. Clear-eyed honesty, truthfulness, honor, courtesy, unselfishness, and other traits of fine character, shall be the goals for every Theta chapter and every individual member of it.
4. Every Theta chapter shall recognize its definite group responsibility for the conduct of its individual members.
5. Every Kappa Alpha Theta chapter shall maintain sound business practices in chapter finance, and in the business relations of its members.
6. Kappa Alpha Theta shall assume responsibility for sanitary, safe, wholesome physical conditions in each of its chapter houses.
7. In every chapter house, Kappa Alpha Theta shall create and maintain a cultured, intellectual atmosphere that will stimulate intellectual progress and superior intellectual achievement.
8. High standards and good taste shall motivate the social life of individual Thetas and of Kappa Alpha Theta chapters.

Six Days in the Great Smokies

OR

Why Thetas Leave Home

BLISTERING hot day. Nail polish, tooth paste to buy. That white dress to wash. . . . It was June 27, the day I left Delaware, Ohio, for Asheville, North Carolina, and Kappa Alpha Theta convention.

After the usual last-minute frenzy, I found myself lumbering toward the station in one of our ancient local taxis. All packed, with two grips and only one gripe—the fact that the beauty parlor operator had that morning given me the worst finger wave of his long and distinguished career. Just when I wanted to make a good impression, too!

Cincinnati's colossus of a new terminal with its vast murals quite awed me. For an hour I wandered wide-eyed. Then all at once the platform was full of good-looking women wearing Theta pins, and we were all clambering on board the special, and the engine was chuf-chuffing out of Cincinnati toward Asheville.

I awoke in Tennessee to find the diner packed with breakfasting Thetas. Eating on a train that snakes around curves is different from dining sedately during a corn-belt trip. Coffee sloshes into the saucer, buckwheat cakes edge on to the table-cloth, and mouthfuls, instead of being swallowed, are jolted down.

"Mo'nin' papeh?" The unshaven old hawker who sold me a Knoxville Journal had the first genuine Southern accent I heard. But in the next five days I was to become adept at translating all types of accents, from New Orleans darky drawls to the slow, musical conversation of the Carolinas.

Taxis whirled us out to Grove Park inn. Waiting to register, we observed that the hotel stands halfway up Sunset mountain with its terrace overlooking the valley for a breath-taking view of the mountainous sky line. The inn is determinedly rustic, high-ceilinged and cool. Here and there brief moralities and Eddie Guest sentiments are carved in the native rock.

Rattled as I was, I managed to remember the preamble and district roll, so the examiner, convinced I really was a Theta and not a Pi Phi spy in disguise, permitted me to register. Lunch was the next event—quite sumptuous, too. Every few minutes an immaculate "niggah boy" came 'round with a burnished copper affair about as big as a suitcase and steaming with all sorts of hotbreads. The first couple of days the waiters wore white gloves, but after that I guess they just gave up the struggle to be elegant. The Thetas ran them ragged.

Afternoon of the first day, and a conference for college delegates only, so we could talk without reserve about our alums, the function of the Advisory board, and how to prevent clashes over bids.

At dinner fraternity airs were sung under the direction of Eleanor LeBlanc of New Orleans, who had the huskiest contralto, the broadest drawl, and the most electric personality at convention. When she sang St. Louis blues, sparks positively flew from her eyes and finger-nails. The Tau trio appeared at nearly every meal and session. All three girls are pretty, poised, sweet-voiced.

At Nike service that evening each college delegate in a white Grecian robe (ours proved to be long enough for Venus de Milo and had to be hemmed all around with safety pins), representatives of inactive chapters robed in purple, and alumnae delegates in black filed past the altar as Mrs Banta, regal in a gold gown, called chapter names.

And it was afternoon and evening, the first day. Events I have set down, but the day's real thrill was seeing our national officers. Mrs Banta is undoubtedly the most charming woman extant. She radiates graciousness. No matter how stormy the meeting (and toward the end of 'em some of 'em were pretty stormy) she is always self-possessed, no hair disarranged. The name, by the way, seems to be pronounced "bon-ta," though the Phi Delt still swear it is "ban-ta."

Mrs Adelaide Sinclair, the new Grand vice-president, wears her dark hair in a pompadour and seems to have a grand sense of humor. Mrs Grasett is the most aristocratic looking person I've ever met—a tall, slim sophisticate and a regular fashion plate, but thoroughly human. Mrs Kircher is the prettiest—even taller than Mrs Grasett, with a lovely serene face, a manner almost timid, and a penchant for tailored sport clothes.

It was Miss Green who surprised me most. Somehow I had pictured her as gaunt, forbidding, sarcastic. Instead she is little and plump and jolly. Capable, too—she can cut long-winded delegates short with a word, and you should hear her call the roll—like a train announcer. But I can't imagine anyone being afraid of her.

At breakfast Friday and at every breakfast thereafter I had to bolt one buckwheat cake and leave the other, while I sprinted for convention hall—a long narrow room with rows of seats arranged alphabetically. The big shots had quite a brainstorm deciding whether to put Gamma deutron on the first row between Gamma and Delta (where it belongs alphabetically) or on the second row where it belongs according to date of founding. After a few days of shuttling back and forth, they compromised by letting me sit on the front row, but calling the chapter after Lambda in the roll.

A line of 54 shiny automobiles attended by two natty policemen on scarlet motorcycles went looping through Asheville that afternoon. We wound over mountains and through dense Biltmore forest where every home houses a millionaire.

Then back to the Inn, and cut-throat competition for the first chance at the suite bath-tub. It was the night of the Southern party, with fancy dress in order. Topsy and Eva were there, not to mention Simon Legree (in checkered bath-robe and derby). Entertainment began when a big black buck slouched in and began to strum on a banjo. Tapping to his tempos, three black boys teetered in a buck-and-wing. The choir of a negro church harmonized in some stirring spirituals.

About this time the men began to arrive for the dance. Over 200 of the local bloods had been invited, and there was a sprinkling of what I think was the Coast Guard, in brilliant red uniform. The women lined up and the men went down the line shaking hands—all 200 of them. Dancing put an end to introductions and we went gliding about the lobby with various scions of the Old South, none of whom seemed to have much idea what "this heah sorority" was all about. (All the North Carolina boys dance alike—a slow slink to any kind of music.)

Instead of dinner Saturday there was a picnic on one of the Inn's well-groomed lawns. A very civilized picnic, however, with droves of waiters, a piano, and no mosquitoes (the altitude discourages them). We sat on a slope carpeted with long pine needles and learned Theta songs in the dusk.

The prize stunt that night at the Inn showed a tiny Betty Locke Hamilton and her three puppet friends founding Kappa Alpha Theta. The Tau trio flounced in and sang She's a bird in a gilded cage with gestures; finally a Theta fashion review and a nonsensical light opera. Late as it was, we adjourned to convention hall for a rush symposium. At one o'clock Sunday morning we stepped out on the terrace for a coke and a last look at the misty mountains, then staggered sleepily to bed.

Sunday: Scholarship luncheon, favors consisting of black enamel clips with gold seals (proved upon investigation to be loose-powder compacts). . . . Swim in the country club pool, where I absentmindedly wandered into the men's lockers, thereby shocking a gentleman in trunks who was shooting craps with the negro attendant. . . . Initiation, and Mrs Banta's warm voice telling eleven pledges what the vows mean, while Mrs Wright made a gold-and-white priestess.

On Monday occurred the last turbulent business sessions, punctuated by a Panhellenic luncheon. Captained by Miss Rieman, the popular "D.P." who looks like Gracie Allen and whose wit is famous, District I staged a skit, "Taking convention back to the chapters." From the upright pages of a seven-foot book titled Convention Kat Chat stepped, for instance, Eleanor LeBlanc in her period gown, singing Carry me back to Ol' Virginny.

Fluttery in our best organdies, we floated out that evening to join the banquet line in the lobby. The gowns were gorgeous, notably a shell-pink number in chiffon which was present on three different people. The program covers were fashioned from bright homespun, and with this textile motif and the general title, "Tailors of Kappa Alpha Theta," the speeches were planned. Then the banquet cup went around, and we clasped hands and sang, Before we part tonight.

Convention was officially over. Yet next day was to result in the only adventure I have to tell of Asheville. Upon learning that I was being soaked $1.65 extra for lunch, I ate long and enthusiastically of everything on the menu. Then a blank afternoon faced me. Rather than a movie, I resolved to take a book and climb Sunset mountain. There on the summit I would feast my eyes on the North Carolina horizon, read a sedate chapter or two and come tripping down the mountain by train time. So I grasped a copy of Priestley's The good companions—a costly blue volume from the college library—and took the most direct course (straight up the mountain). Now and then I stopped to look at the view and think charming thoughts about nature and squirrels.

Then it began to rain. Just a patter at first. (Funny about Asheville—it rains every day for at least a few minutes, and may pour on one street while it shines a block away.) Oh, well, there's a cabin on top (I thought). I'll sprint for it.

You try running up a mountain in a thunder storm some day. It's great sport. It really was a thunder storm by this time, and I was soaked to the undies. The mountain grew higher and higher in such an obstinate sort of way that at last I bowed my proud head and started back. But by that time "the most direct course" was a fair-sized waterfall plunging down the slope. Three times I stubbed my toe on coiling roots before I reached a path; a path which, however, seemed to be going around the mountain rather than down. Below the path was a perpendicular drop. At that moment Gamma deuteran's official delegate was pretty darn scared. There was I, halfway up a perfectly strange mountain in the wilds of North Carolina, drenched to the skin, thunder crashing overhead, and The good companions coming off in large blue expanses on my arm. I could see the red roof of Grove Park inn, but the only way of getting there seemed to be to take-off in a flying leap from the mountainside.

Whistling She'll be comin' raound the maountain to keep up my spirits, I started raound the maountain. Two hours later I was back at the hotel. Into the $20-a-day lobby, where expensive guests lounged, I trailed my waterlogged oxfords sush-squashing at every step, and my soggy hair dribbling over my eyes.

Hot bath . . . taxi . . . the Cincinnati Pullman, with Grand council much off dignity in the dining car. . . . Orange juice in the wonder terminal, and the stuffy chair car for Delaware. . . . The clipped hedges of the depot, and heat beating down on the station platform, and the same wheezy taxi that had let me out, shaky and excited, some six days before.

"Anything happened since I left?"

"Nope. Fred Wickham got married, but I reckon that's all. Six days don't mean much in Delaware, ma'am."

Maybe not. But six days in Asheville mean to me a wonderful vacation, a glowing memory, and a real inspiration for the year to come.

Theta Library Project

HERE IS a suggestion for that chapter Christmas present:

"We'll have a nice fat tree this year with very unusual presents. You see, the chapter has long needed a library and we have decided that it is quite apropos to give books for the house this year. You've probably read the article in the Lyre with its fine list of good readable literature and we have taken this suggestion quite personally since a committee is completing plans for shelves and books to be purchased or sent by Santa Claus. We're wondering if any of you alumnæ haven't in your possession, perhaps dusty but legible volumes you aren't using. As you remember, in college one varies one's reading from the field of psychology and William James to the perhaps more inspiring but no more worthy field of poetry. Books that are old but that are 'good' ones are most acceptable and if any of you who are bookminded find it in your hearts and purses to make a Christmas contribution of a brand new, spick-and-span volume we would not have to be forced to accept it. We're hoping that, on your next visit to the house, you will take time to inspect our by then well-thumbed volumes and, too, that you will have an added sense of pride in it because one of your own favorites has been relinquished to the worthy shelves. We're all proud that we're going in for literature and getting away from the collegiate attitude of not caring for the printed page, aren't you?"

A X Ω Lyre, Jan '34

Now the story of The Library of Beta Tau chapter.

The idea of a library in the little white house has appealed in no small measure to many of our alumnæ, and at the last district meeting, the chairmen report that much progress was made in collecting money for books, and in getting promises of books from each one as they houseclean their own libraries. Several definite plans have been evolved: The Columbus group are sending a magazine subscription now, and next fall are going to pay a certain sum for their suppers, and all money over and above the cost of the supper will go into a library fund. The New York group are taxing each member 75c and have a tidy little sum all ready now to send to Corinne. The Cleveland girls are going to make next year one of book discussions, selecting one book at the end of each meeting to send to the college chapter, collecting 25c during the year from each girl. A number of books have already been received from parents of actives, and a few books are coming in from interested alumnæ. Each group has avowed its enthusiasm for the idea. We feel sure the library will prosper as the groups start functioning next fall. For an idea that is so new, we are quite pleased with results to date.

If there is some misunderstanding about how books should be sent, perhaps this will clear it up. Corinne Metz has offered her services as a clearing house so there will be no duplications. Her services are purely voluntary because of her intense interest in library work, and is a service we are extremely fortunate to have. This in itself should raise the level of the Beta Tau library.

One group favors magazine subscriptions to the house instead of books since the girls in the chapter have so little time to read for pleasure's sake. While the latter comment is true, still there are many of the girls who would find time to slip down to the house to browse over the books, if actives now are the same as they have been in the past. They are so grateful and enthusiastic over the books they have received that it is a pleasure to further advertise this splendid suggestion. There are always girls in a group who do not care for books, but would rather pick up a magazine to while away an extra half hour. So you see magazine subscriptions are just as welcome.

I have always liked Lewis Alison's meditation on books on page 106 of "The Fountain." While none of us are as determined book-worms as Charles Morgan's character, still books around us have a fascination that cannot be denied, and are, I think, a stabilizing factor in a college chapter.

(Follows a list of books already in the library.)

From Chi Psi Delta—Kappa Alpha Theta Bulletin, Vol. 6, No. 3.

Other fraternities are interested in chapter house libraries too! Here is a list selected by a committee of the National council of teachers of English, and recommended by the editor of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Quarterly to Deke chapters.

How does this list check with Theta's Browsing library list? (see this magazine for November 1933.) Maybe this list can supplement that one, for chapters whose libraries are growing beyond the Browsing list.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Hosts of readers will find sins of omission and commission in the hundred books listed above "as best suited to undergraduate needs." Therefore, we feel at liberty to suggest certain tomes which in our opinion fill a greater need. In general, the list betrays a lamentable lack of appreciation of wit and humor by the omission of Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland, James Steven's The crock of gold, and Don Marquis' archie and mehitable. We would substitute Caesar's Commentaries for Flaubert's Salammbô, and Thackeray's Pendennis in place of his Henry Esmond—one of the dullest books we ever read. And where are Charles O'Malley by Charles Lever; the Sleepy hollow tales, by Washington Irving; Uncle Tom's cabin, by Harriet Beecher Stowe; Spoon River anthology, by Edgar Lee Masters; and the short stories of O. Henry? And how come no selection from the works of George Moore, Rudyard Kipling, Bernard Shaw and Bret Harte? As for tales of travel and adventure, were we less modest we would add to those of Marco Polo, Down the world, by O. Hering. With all due respect to Professor Townsend and his learned associates we advise Dekes to read Bret Harte's The luck of Roaring camp before investing in Hamlin Garland's A son of the middle border.

Δ K E Quarterly

No "100 best books" nor no "Browsing library" can be the best list for all. We echo some of Mr Hering's exceptions to the list and would take others too in our own protest if we were choosing our best loved 100 books.

Beekman Tower

The Panhellenic house, New York City, in the future will be known as Beekman Tower (Panhellenic). Mrs Kimball, representing Kappa Alpha Theta on the Board of the Panhellenic house association, is taking an active part in shaping plans involved in the change of name.

According to the announcement of the Board of directors, one of the prime reasons for making the change is the necessity for increasing local patronage which should result in future financial return to the fraternities whose original support made the house possible.

It has become increasingly evident that Panhellenic house, originally intended as a hotel exclusively for women, would function better if it could enjoy general patronage. Two years ago the first definite step was taken in this direction by making Panhellenic hospitality available both to men and women.

Because of the impression on the part of the public, resulting directly from the name Panhellenic, that the house was restricted to members of Panhellenic fraternities, the Board of directors has faced many unforeseen problems during the past two years. The Board of directors believes the Panhellenic house association is engaged in a real estate project in which national fraternities have participated and must compensate the stock owning groups.

With this end in view, July 17, the Board voted to change the name of the Panhellenic to the name "Beekman Tower (Panhellenic)."

This step was taken after each individual director had taken the matter up with her respective fraternity group, each of which considered the matter carefully before the change was made. It was not without a pang of regret that those who built Panhellenic house and worked so unceasingly for its success finally voted that the new name was for the best interest of the house and of the participating groups.

The policy of the Panhellenic will not be changed. The same high standards which always have prevailed will continue, and the status of the Panhellenic's relationship to the fraternity groups will remain the same. Beekman Tower (Panhellenic) will continue to be the recognized fraternity headquarters in New York City, for the accommodation of, and service to fraternity members. In addition, it will continue its function as a center and meeting place for alumnae groups and for all college chapters in the vicinity of New York.

The New York City Panhellenic club also will continue to maintain its headquarters at the Beekman Tower (Panhellenic), and the annual Founders'-day luncheons, banquets, regular monthly meetings, bridge parties, teas, and other functions sponsored by fraternities will continue to be held at the house.

MUCH ADO

The dews of Heaven, or the dues of Theta—
Which kind of dues do you suppose are greater?
The dews of Heaven fall on all alike;
The dues of Theta seem, alas! to strike
Chiefly the ones who've paid their dues before—
The deuce they do! So let's have dues from MORE.

Time was when we didn't mind waving blank checks at people and saying, "Hey, you! Sign on the dotted line for your dues!" Hard times, however, have ended such rough and ready tactics. To-day we make no personal duns, but appeal to an Honor System:

- 1) If you CAN pay dues, step right up, not waiting to be urged.
- 2) If you CAN'T pay dues, come to Theta meetings anyway. Your company and good fellowship are just as important factors in our chapter life as mere money.
- 3) Those who CAN pay but put it off and forget it leave the faithful pillars to carry more than their share of chapter expenses.

THETA MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS AT CONVENTION

Grand Council, 1934-36

FOR THE new Theta mind and the forgetting Theta memory, a review of the records of the Thetas chosen by convention deliberations as the 1934-36 Grand council.

FOUR MEMBERS of Grand council were re-elected, and Mrs Sinclair was chosen to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs Wright's resignation of the vice-presidency. This Grand council is geographically and educationally representative of Canada and all parts of the United States, and of chapters representing seven different decades in Kappa Alpha Theta history.

MRS BANTA AND MRS GRASETT

Mrs Banta, Grand president, lives in the middle north west, at Menasha, Wisconsin. She has been assistant editor of the Greek exchange for seventeen years. Her college work was done at Lawrence college, where she was a charter member of Alpha Psi chapter, and at the University of Chicago, and Smith college. She attended the first Theta convention that met after she became a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, and every later convention, except one.

Mrs Sinclair, Grand vice-president, represents the international character of modern Kappa Alpha Theta, having A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Toronto. She did graduate work at the London (England) school of economics and the University of Berlin. Her first national work was as a leader in the hostess Executive committee for the Toronto convention.

Mrs Grasett, Grand treasurer, who is guiding the finances of the fraternity successfully through the depression, is a native of Iowa, a graduate of Northwestern university, and now lives in Winnetka, Illinois, where she is much interested in civic developments. Under her wise supervision Kappa Alpha Theta's investments had a higher market value in 1934 than when purchased!

Miss Green, Grand secretary and editor, is a native of Indiana, a graduate of Stanford university and of the New York State library school. She was Reference librarian at Stanford university when Theta persuaded her to give up her library career to accept the executive secretaryship and editorship for Kappa Alpha Theta. Similar positions and centralization of fraternity work were being established by other leading fraternities to handle the imperative problems of enormous increases in the routine and creative work connected with the extension of the fraternity system.

Mrs Kircher, a native of Illinois, is a graduate of the University of Illinois, who studied also at the University of Chicago. Her time is divided between winters in Montreal, Canada, and summers in Michigan, her legal residence, and Chicago. Much travel has brought her first hand knowledge of many Theta chapters, and contact with widespread alumnæ, whose fraternity interests are her care as Grand alumnæ secretary.

Every member of this Council served as a District president, before becoming a member of the Grand council. Each of them has attended numerous national Theta conventions, running from four up; and each of them, except Miss Green, had attended three or more such gatherings before becoming a district officer. Mrs Sinclair, at her third national convention, was the official delegate of Toronto alumnæ. Mrs Grasett and Mrs Kircher each attended a national convention while still in college, Mrs Grasett as a junior visitor from Tau, and Mrs Kircher as Delta's official delegate.

It is the long established policy of Kappa Alpha Theta to provide geographical representation in its organization through the District presidents and the convention delegates chosen by the constituent college and alumnæ chapters. But Grand council members, like the President's Cabinet, or the working associates of the executive in a large corporation, are chosen for their special adaptability for the work of each office, without relation to geographical representation.

However, as this sketch has revealed, the present Grand council, although not chosen on any such basis, happens to represent Canada, and all three sections of the United States—the West, the East, and the Central states. We have proverbially hit two birds with one stone—or may we say reached two stars with one Kite flying!

Memorial Etchings

ANYONE WHO has been to a Kappa Alpha Theta convention in recent years remembers Maud Bell Plowman from Upsilon chapter.

At two conclaves she sold the etchings of her famous husband, George T. Plowman, and turned the proceeds over to the Loan and fellowship fund. Her generosity did not stop with that.

Mrs Plowman came to Asheville with twenty-one etchings to be presented as a memorial to her husband. She designated officers and friends to whom she wished to present ten of the pictures, and then from each of the eleven districts one chapter was chosen to receive the awards. Nine of the chapters were selected on a basis of progress; and two received etchings applicable to their respective campuses.

The presentation came as a complete surprise to the chapters, and to those who could see the pleasure in the faces of the recipients, it was evident that the gifts would be cherished ones!

To own one of Mr Plowman's etchings would be satisfaction enough, but to receive one chosen by his artist wife and awarded with loyalty and devotion, is beyond expression.

At the close of the presentation ceremony, there was a complete silence for a moment, and then the applause burst forth. It continued until Maud Bell Plowman arose from her seat, and smiled through her tears at those who expressed their appreciation.

The gifts presented as a loving memorial to George T. Plowman will be placed upon our walls with reverent hands.

Comments by the Editor

CONVENTION — long anticipated — has come and gone!

So energetic and forehanded was the Kite staff that most every reader of this magazine must already be familiar with the story as told in that up-and-coming newspaper.

But the Kite staff couldn't have Mary Ashbrooke's pictures, which were skillfully developed in her own dark room after she had carried the films all the way to her Oklahoma home. So—we give you now a pictorial story of convention; supplemented by an all-seeing review by one participant in it all, a college delegate, Helen Beal, Gamma deuteron.

Also presented as frontispiece is the most outstanding accomplishment of convention—a formulation in concrete statements of the standards that have been, and will continue to be, Kappa Alpha Theta's guide posts!

One tragedy is Theta's this fall. The loss of Alpha Beta from the roll of college chapters. No chapter has contributed more to Kappa Alpha Theta than has the Swarthmore chapter, no chapter has maintained a more evenly fine personnel, none has more loyal alumnæ.

Theta will miss Alpha Beta's active participation in fraternity life, while rejoicing that it can still count on the loyal and active alumnæ participation in fraternity of those who won their Theta badges at Swarthmore.

May this disillusioning experience of fraternity opposition, furthered by disloyal fraternity members, give all fraternities the wisdom to face opposition successfully by correcting faults criticized, or proving the falsity of the criticisms, before they gather momentum that reason and sanity cannot stem! This, to us, is the most vital work for fraternities today.

Frank evaluation of facts, and cooperation of all in Panhellenic, may protect the fraternity young people from today's wave of opposition, founded on emotion rather than on thought.

Depression and its threat to fraternity stability is a theme presented in almost every fraternity magazine that comes across the editor's desk. But she can't write in a similar vein, because—

Theta has not lost a college chapter. No chapter has failed to initiate the average number of pledges. The percentage of members leaving college before graduation has not increased (the Loan and fellowship fund helped make this record).

Every chapter house has been maintained successfully, and closed the college year 1933-34 with a balanced budget: except in four instances, having a substantial bank balance as a nest egg for this fall. Not a single chapter house corporation has defaulted any payment, and in only two instances has the Endowment fund been called on to increase its loan so as to retire bonds, make regular payments on first mortgages.

To convention the auditors reported Kappa Alpha Theta's investments as worth more at June 1934 market quotations than they cost originally. No bank in which national funds were deposited failed. A few chapters had deposits in banks that failed; but each of these has recovered a large percentage of its deposit—in some cases 100 per cent was recovered when the banks were reorganized and reopened.

This is not written in a boastful mood, but in one of humble thankfulness that Theta truthfully can give such a reassuring report to members anxious to know "how Theta is standing the depression."

Theta's one keen contact with the Depression has been the alumnæ chapter situation; about 25% fewer alumnæ active in alumnæ chapters in 1933-34 than the average. Whether this loss can all be charged up to the Depression is a moot question. A ten year survey shows wide fluctuations in individual alumnæ chapters in good times as well as in bad. Other factors that affect alumnæ chapter membership are—changes in residence, in chapter officers, in type of programs, health and travel by members or their families.

On the alumnæ credit side is a rapid increase in the number of active alumnæ clubs. Do these clubs with fewer national demands, simpler organization, smaller fees, serve present day alumnæ demands more effectively than can the necessarily more formally organized alumnæ chapters?

In April a perfect deluge of good copy, with charming pictures, descended on the magazine. All of it was sent, in a last minute rush, to fulfill year's editorial requirements.

Little of it could be used in the May issue, as convention had the right of way, and most of it arrived after the printer's dead line date. Alas! there would not be another issue until November. Some of the copy whose timeliness could not wait, can never appear; some of it is in this issue; such of it as would still be timely is held for later issues of volume 49.

All of which is, first, an explanation of why your story and your friend's picture may not appear in the magazine; second, and more important, an illustration of why we ask the present year's editors to be more forehanded. Don't wait until April 1935 to balance your chapter's word account with the magazine.

Send news in when it happens. Send pictures soon after they are taken. Snow scenes and Founders'-day stories aren't good copy in May, nor is a story of campus positions already vacated as a result of spring elections and senior graduations.

At an Editor's Round table at one N.P.C. an editor told this tale. She came into the office after a chapter visiting trip, to be greeted by an assistant with the jubilant news that "on 26 campuses a ——— was W.S.G.A. President." It seemed too good to be true—and it was; for though copy received that month so said, some of the copy referred to positions to-be-held next year, if their nominee was elected! All of which sounds absurd, but could be duplicated in the time it takes much Theta news to reach the magazine. Let us "rush the issue," for a change.

Please do not let these remarks keep you from sending in copy. We want your copy, we deeply appreciate your cooperation, we never could get out this magazine without your generous help—but we do want the magazine to be up-to-date and we don't want your efforts to be in vain, as they must be if the obvious comment after reading your copy has to be—"too late."

Retail Store Opportunities

AFTER sixteen years of experience in a department store in various capacities, beginning with a position as Assistant to the principal executive at a compensation of $25.00 a week, and culminating in the present dual position of Sales manager for the entire store and Merchandise manager of Outer apparel for women and girls, I can truly say that work in a department store is fun, exciting, challenging. No genius is necessary for success. A good background of education, average intelligence, willingness to work and study, a pioneer spirit for trying new ideas, common sense, good health, energy, ability to work in harmony with all classes of people, optimism, an open mind; and, above all, a sense of humor will bring success in this line of work to any ambitious college woman willing to devote her best efforts to her job. She should be able to take criticism on a man-to-man basis, fight for her ideas and ideals, and seek but never shirk responsibility. She must be a perpetual student, for consumer trends and thoughts are changing daily, and just as in any of the other professions it is essential to keep up-to-date.

The pleasure of working with all kinds of people, attractive compensation after an initial training period, variety and interest in the work are a few of the advantages in this field. A six-day working week for executives (not under the N.R.A. 40-hour week), with only short vacation periods (average two weeks), long hours on occasions when one has a position of executive responsibility, necessity for working under pressure to complete each job on scheduled time, small pay at the beginning are the disadvantages that might be of importance to some individuals. So few young women are willing to give first consideration to the job . . . pleasures seem to come first . . . that there is plenty of opportunity for advancement to those who hold their jobs of prime importance. As 75% to 90% of all purchases are reputed to be made or influenced by women, it is obvious that women have a distinct advantage over men in many important positions in retail stores.

Formal education of value as a background is available in most universities in the following subjects: Economics of Distribution and Consumption, Retailing, Merchandising, Salesmanship, Advertising, Textiles, Color, Line, Design, and Fashion, Psychology.

Among the colleges and universities specializing in training for retail stores, the Prince school of education for store service (a graduate school of Simmons college in Boston) is perhaps the oldest and best-known, providing a practical plan of education for store work and experience in cooperation with Boston stores. New York university school of retailing (four years undergraduate, also graduate school) and the Research bureau for retail training, a graduate school affiliated with the University of Pittsburgh, with similar cooperative arrangements with New York and Pittsburgh retailers respectively, are also excellent schools for practical training.

Certain larger department stores also have executive training programs for college graduates to whom they pay a nominal compensation during the training period, after which they are placed in executive or semi-executive positions, according to individual abilities and store vacancies.

Below are listed some of the positions department stores offer of sufficient responsibility, compensation, and promotional opportunity to be of interest to college women: Merchandise managers, Buyers, Assistant buyers, Sales manager or publicity director, Advertising manager, Copywriters, Manager of comparison shopping department, Comparison shoppers, Manager of order department or shopping bureau, Display manager and assistants, Employment manager and assistants, Personnel director and assistants, Training or educational director and assistants, Interior decorators, Floor superintendents.

Compensations for the above positions vary from $1,200 to $18,000 a year, depending upon the responsibility of the position and the size of the store, although there are a few outstanding women executives in a few larger stores whose compensations are in excess of the $18,000. Beginning salaries of college women without experience vary from $14.00 to $25.00 per week.

Choosing-a-career Conference

THIS UNIQUE venture in Newark, New Jersey, sponsored by the L. Bamberger & Company, was so well advertised in the collegiate press that its three day sessions the last week in June were attended by some 1000 to 1500 (depending on which newspaper you read) college young people representing many colleges.

The speakers on the program bore distinguished names in the professions and businesses on which they talked. Each talk was followed by a question session, when the audience asked specific questions. The college questioners appeared more interested in general principles than in how to get a job, frequently confounding the more conservative speakers by questions reflecting the newer generation's ethical values and success standards.

The program covered almost the whole industrial and professional field from shipping to magazine illustrations. One unique feature was the speech of Director Douglas of the budget on government positions, followed by radio asked and radio answered questions—an animated long distance amplifier broadcast dialogue between questioning students and Douglas.

Almost without exception the business and professional men asserted their industries will provide increasing opportunities in the years to come. Few could promise an abundance of present employment and neither were they inclined to estimate when prospects of employment would brighten.

This situation led a group of thirteen college men to circulate among the 1,000 students attending the conference yesterday afternoon an open letter charging that "the speakers at this conference are dodging the issue."

A questionnaire ballot that closed the conference brought some surprising opinions. Banking as a career was the first choice of more than half of the delegates. Some students admitted aspiration to be Chief justice of the United States Supreme court. Many others said to become a great motion picture director was the acme of their ambition, but only a dozen expressed a desire to become President of the United States.

Plain success was the goal of 120 of the delegates and financial gain was the aim of 102 others. Twenty-four said they were seeking to enjoy life.

Twenty-four delegates who decided to change their vocation during the conference declared they were influenced by the address of Jack Straus, vice president of R. H. Macy & Company of New York.

Selling was voted the easiest field in which to attain advancement. Aviation was second in that list and entertainment ranked third.

Five hundred of the career seekers said they would prefer spiritual rather than financial returns for their work, and that the satisfaction obtained from work well done would be sufficient to counter-balance a low salary.

One student stated he would expect to make $45,000 a year before undertaking a marital venture, while another contended $1,100 would be a sufficient annual income for a married man.

Seniors—Hearken!

YOU HAVE invested thousands of dollars in your college diploma, yet it hasn't a dime's worth of pawnshop value.

You aren't educated just because you have it. It does not prevent your failure. . . . What worth your diploma has is spiritual, moral and social. . . .

Your diploma is nothing more than a bill of sale for a weapon you haven't even tested. That weapon is good or poor, depending entirely upon you. Like soldiers about to enter battle, you and your class mates have deployed and crossed the line of departure.

You don't know it all . . . and you never will know it all. . . . The intriguing thing about education is that it never reaches its goal.

When you went to the university it had seven ideals for you:

- (1) To make you free from servitude and slavery.
- (2) To make you strong and fearless.
- (3) To make you love the stern face of truth.

(4) To make you sensitive to all the beauty the world contains.

(5) To give you an active sympathy for humanity in its struggle upward.

(6) To make you a leader.

(7) To increase your capacity to think.

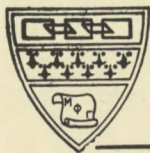

It is preposterous for you to assume that you have found the ultimate in a piece of sheepskin with a little printing on it!

The world is like a royal banquet set for kings. The table is richly served but you have to help yourself.

Because education continues indefinitely, the only "grade" that amounts to anything is the mark you give yourself . . . at seventy!

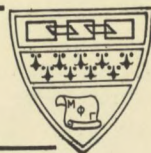

The best there is in teaching gives the student a curiosity to search for truth through his own effort. If you have gleaned that fact from college you are ready to go on, and if you escape failure your development must be twofold . . . professional and cultural.

WHAT THEY ARE DOING

(News of Organized Alumnæ Groups)

WASHINGTON ALUMNÆ was hostess in April to the city Panhellenic of some 500 members, at the home of Silence Stewart Wilson, Rho. Dorothy Humes Radford, Upsilon, gave a program of her own compositions, songs, for which she does everything herself—words, music, singing, playing. The first fall meeting was in September at Mrs Radford's home in Virginia, 22 miles away, 31 present in spite of a rain storm, many newcomers to the city and some older residents who were newcomers in the chapter.

DENVER ALUMNÆ. The treasury is bulging with money from a theater benefit in August. Yearbooks are ready for distribution. Many new names are on the roll. With three college chapters to mother, rushing is to be a main interest this year. Monthly programs will be given by talented Thetas, starting in October, when Mabel Baum Smith will picture for us her year in Europe.

RENO ALUMNÆ's first meeting was August 30, so members who teach outside the city might attend one meeting before leaving for their positions. The meeting was also well attended by new alumnæ of the class of 1934. Mrs Evelyn Walker Reed's enjoyable and highly instructive report of convention aroused great interest.

MINNEAPOLIS ALUMNÆ: First meeting this fall, September 11, when Mrs Brennan, president, gave her official report as delegate to convention. Mrs Merrick, St Paul, described convention social activities; Ellen Hulbert, Upsilon delegate, reported the college round tables; and Janet Poore, Upsilon president, sent to convention by the two Twin City alumnæ chapters, gave her convention impressions. In October will entertain Upsilon, its pledges and their mothers for tea at the chapter house. The ways and means committee, Mrs Merrill Madsen chairman, had a bridge tea at Atkinson's tea rooms September 26. One hundred tables were sold, receipts going toward the cost of newly decorating Upsilon's chapter house.

CLEVELAND ALUMNÆ's new yearbook lists nine monthly meetings, ranging from bridge desserts through supper meetings, and evening parties for "husbands and friends"; also five Panhellenic events, monthly, from a December holiday dance through April. For purpose of reaching all the 212 Thetas whose addresses are in the directory as living in or near the city, there are 14 districts, each under a chairman.

ALBION CLUB commencement reunion for Pi chapter alumnæ was attended by Mrs Minnie Beard Folks of New York city and Mrs Rose Oldman Keenan of Albion, both charter members; Mrs May Moses Hammond of Seneca, New York, one of the first members of the chapter; Mrs Ella Meinke Kuhn of Detroit, Mrs Myrtle Smith Crockett of Metamora, Ohio, Mrs Lena Hunt Farley at whose home the reunion was held, Mrs Emma Osborne Northwood, Mrs Rebekah Stricker Maywood, Mrs Mary G. Raymond, and Miss Edith Bolster of Albion; Mrs Inez Croman Mellencamp of Grass Lake. Guests from Beta Pi chapter were Mrs Martha Farley Mains of Chicago, and Virgene Allen, Wilma Wagenvoord and Irene Farley, all three students at Michigan state.

SACRAMENTO CLUB: The 1933-34 club year culminated in a May meeting in the city's beautiful new Y.W.C.A. building, when Grace Gilmore Pope (Mrs W. H.), Psi, was elected president, and Dorothy Talbot, Beta Delta, secretary. As there is a growing demand for a down town luncheon center where Thetas might meet informally, a committee was appointed to select such headquarters. Everyone at the meeting contributed to a round robin letter to Phyllis Hyatt Gardiner, Phi, away in the mountains because of the ill health of her small son.

THETAS YOU'D ENJOY

Ethel Arnold Tilden, Poet

I am:
My parents' child;
My husband's wife;
My children's Mother—
The dears—they've managed
Quite to smother Me!

SO SPEAKS Ethel Arnold Tilden, Alpha, for many women, in Sophistry, one of the poems in her volume Quest and acceptance. (Harold Vinal. N.Y. $1.50)

But the verse in this delightful collection is proof that what she says is really not true for herself, because the "me" is not smothered—quite, when an individual asserts herself in such poetry media as Poetry, a magazine of verse, Voices, the Poetry review of London, Lyric, Christian science monitor, Good housekeeping, and The New Yorker; in such anthologies as Caroline Hill's Twentieth century love poems, and Braithwaite's.

Not her family, nor her friends, the small town life, nor the college community with innumerable insistent demands on a talented and admired member has smothered the "unconquerable soul" of this modern woman with the spirit of Invictus. Not the bludgeonings of chance but the menace of everyday life would bow her head. But she writes this life into her verse so that it stands conquered, not conquering. Until in Gage she is sure that—

Nothing can touch the something that's I
You cannot kill it—it cannot die.

A woman poet in a state which has given the country several notable men of letters, Mrs Tilden is a member of the Indiana branch of the League of American penwomen, the Poetry society of Indianapolis and the Women's press club of the state as well as the Poetry society of America and Theta Sigma Phi.

Her Quest and acceptance is a happily titled book. In a number of its poems Mrs Tilden expresses the universal longing and hunger to know life's highways, Quest; the purple plains of Araby, (Loss); the gypsy sweetheart, (Change-ling); far off hills, (Affinity); the feel of the sky, (Rapture), and the meaning of the wind, (Vanishings).

The impetus for this

Quest is at once revealed and satisfied in Urge:

Until I've made one perfect thing—
A lotus leaf, a moon moth's wing,
A pink peach flower, a poppy pod,
The song I sense but cannot sing—
I never can know peace—or God—

The philosophy of accepting—with charming grace—what life has to offer in lieu of our favorite Castles in Spain, is reflected in another group of this volume's

ETHEL ARNOLD TILDEN
"Gray Gables"
Greencastle, Indiana

verses, including one of the title poems, Acceptance. This first appeared in Harriet Monroe's Poetry, a magazine of verse and is frequently quoted. Another much copied favorite is a mature reflection on conjugal love called Enough, which may be read as well in the Hill collection of love poems.

Enough is written in free verse, a form in which Mrs Tilden often expresses her ideas, although she writes in the conventional forms as well, letting the mood and substance determine the pattern of expression.

In Courage and defeat the writer shares the emotional depths of human experience as only a poet can.

But gay and spirited is her mood when she writes of common everyday things, the commonplace that threatens to engulf. In the patterns of light verse, in the free rhythms of informal conversation, Mrs Tilden sketches with shrewd insight and poignant overtones the places we've seen and the people we've met—but understood less well than she. Consider Paradox:

I am a democrat—
No one dare question that!
Strange, I am hurt—
And yet I am—when grinning, pert,
The girl who sometimes does my clothes,
Togged out, escorted by two beaux,
Flings me an impudent "Hello"
Upon the street. Oh, yes, I know
We're kin—
"Sisters" 'n everything, "under the skin"
That's just what puzzles me, I mind
When she presumes I am her kind,
Her cheap perfume, the messy hair
That hides her ears, her brazen stare,
Her stylish and too costly dress
Unduly pique me, I confess—
She's happy, at her ease and shameless:
I'm heartsick—I—who am so blameless!

Another time Mrs Tilden describes the rustic Hoosier countryside, or Indianapolis market. And her spirit of sharing her pleasures prompts both the poems on her garden and the bouquets from it for friends' vases.

Small wonder that a woman so alive to persons and scenes about her and so articulate a spokesman should be declared the first "poet laureate" of Indiana when the Federation of Women's clubs established that honor.

In the state as well as in Greencastle she is called upon to write something or say something on important occasions of all kinds; at Theta banquets, of course, and at such civic ceremonies as the dedication of the beautiful Gobin Memorial church at De Pauw university.

For New Year's day, 1929, this Theta poet wrote Two prayers for the New Year, which were printed then in Good housekeeping, and have since been copied the world over.

Just now there is finished and in publication an oratorio by Van Denman Thompson, well known composer of church music, for which Mrs Tilden wrote the original text. This oratorio was sung in October, 1934, in Baltimore at the Sesquicentennial of the founding of the Methodist church in America. The strong, sweeping movement of the pioneer epic tells of the ordination of the first Bishop, Asbury, and the sending forth of the Circuit riders into the West.

Interestingly enough, this is the Bishop for whom DePauw university was originally named, when it was founded in 1837. At DePauw Prof F. C. Tilden is one of the most beloved professors, and no small part of Mrs Tilden's time and interests are devoted to DePauw and Alpha chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta.

She has been called on with the varied assortment of demands that only a college chapter can think of and make! At one time, before chapters had houses, the archives reposed in one of the closets of her girlhood home. Later she graciously moved herself and family out of her own "Gray Gables" so that the girls could have the house while arranging to purchase one of their own.

With three Theta sisters, a Theta niece, and a Theta daughter her family is loyal. The daughter, "Betty" will be remembered by all who attended California convention. She it is who inspired one of her Mother's loveliest poems. It seems written to all daughters, and for all Thetas:

FOR ELIZABETH

On Her Eighteenth Birthday

All of my dreams that have never come true,
Daughter, I'm dreaming still—for you—

The scarlet cloak; the silver gown;
 The house on the high hill looking down
 On little valleys and wooded streams—
 Daughter, I still keep all my dreams—
 The proud-eyed lover; the garden where
 Valley lilies flood the air
 With sweetness and where thrushes sing
 And red birds nest spring after spring;
 And loved work most—to fill long days;
 Dusk, a low room where fire light plays
 Upon old walls when nights grow chill

And the pines sing low on the wind-swept hill;
 Far journeys past horizon's bend,
 But always at the journey's end
 Hearth's content and quiet sleep—
 Every dream of mine I keep
 All of my dreams that have never come true,
 Daughter, I'm dreaming for you!

Virginia Cuthbert

An Interesting Theta Artist

CHI, AT Syracuse, can boast of an artist, now taking graduate work at the University of Pittsburgh. The artist is Virginia Cuthbert, who was awarded the Carnegie institute prize of $250 given the member of the Associated artists of Pittsburgh who placed first in the annual exhibit with a group of three or more paintings. Virginia submitted four paintings to the exhibit, Portrait study, Still life, Informal portrait, and Banks-ville in January, to carry off first prize.

She spent four years in the College of Fine arts at Syracuse university and was graduated in 1930, receiving the Augusta Hazard fellowship for a year's study abroad. She spent 1930 and 1931 studying in Paris, Florence, and London, and traveling through Europe to study famous picture galleries. Then a summer at Cape Cod school of art, where she studied under the late Charles W. Hawthorne. Virginia then went to New York City to study under the late George Luks, and since then she has been at the University of Pittsburgh.

She has exhibited her paintings at Syracuse university, at the American-Anderson galleries in New York, at the Carnegie institute in Pittsburgh, at the 128th annual exhibit of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine art, and at various exhibitions in and around Pittsburgh. One of her paintings is in the permanent collection at Syracuse university and one in the collection of the one hundred Patrons of Art at Pittsburgh.

Penelope Redd said in the Pittsburgh sun-telegraph: "She is completely free of any devices to attract attention so frequently practiced by exhibitors. Hers is the art of forethought."

"She apparently chooses carefully what she prefers to paint, prudently plans the placing of the figures and objects, estimates the effect of a palette appropriate to the mood, and then proceeds with sturdy determination."

Virginia has a studio in the back yard of her home in Pittsburgh, the garage converted to suit her needs. Here she has a big, old fashioned coal stove, a sky light, an etching press, and all her artist's paraphernalia. She describes it as being "a typical studio, mostly pretty dirty," and here she does everything from making frames (for she makes the frames for all of her paintings) to painting murals.

After she gets her Master's degree, she intends to go on painting. She won't make teaching her profession, although she now has a class of eight pupils.

While at Syracuse university, she was a member of Tau Sigma Alpha, honorary international architectural allied arts fraternity, as well as of Chi chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta.

First Woman Superintendent of a Major Indian Jurisdiction

Alida C. Bowler, Alpha Iota and Delta chapters

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 3.—(AP)—A clear-eyed woman with a wind-blown bob, Miss Alida Bowler, today added the title of "first woman Indian superintendent" to a colorful career.

She was director of the first Wandering Youth studies of the children's bureau. She dug up the statistics on crime and the foreign born for the Wickersham committee. She wrote gang histories of the Los Angeles area. With the Red Cross abroad, back in 1918-19, she helped Rumanian refugees to return to their homes.

Starting Sept. 1, Miss Bowler will supervise the scattered Indian tribes of northern Nevada, serving also as superintendent of the Carson Indian school at Stewart, Nev.

John Collier, superintendent of Indian affairs, said he had chosen Miss Bowler, not to follow a pattern of the past, but to do a trail-blazing job.

"She'll have a big program out there," he said. "One task will be to find out how to organize the scattered Indians of Nevada to receive the advantages of the new Wheeler-Howard act, which is predicated on the Indians being organized."

May Corbett Smith, Epsilon

A PERSON of unusual interest is May Corbett Smith (Mrs Harold F.), who for twenty-six years was not in touch with any Theta chapter but whose interest in Theta never lagged. She was initiated into Theta at Wooster college, where her father, a missionary in China, had sent her to get her college degree, and she graduated magna cum laude.

After May received her degree from Wooster she went back to her home in China. There she began to lead a busy life. She taught music in Union woman's college in Peking, at that time the only college for women in China. And she also acted as interpreter for all the interchange of courtesies between the several foreign legations in Peking and the Imperial Court, and attended all embassy and court functions. May was present at the audience at which the four-year-old emperor Pu-Yi, recently enthroned as emperor of Manchukuo, first saw Aryans. And the last audience granted by the Dowager Empress before her death was to May and the wife of the American minister, Mrs William J. Calhoun.

Meanwhile May married Harold Frederick Smith, who was a professor in a school in Chefoo, China. They continued to live in China until four years ago when they came to Nashville, Tennessee. And May is just as active here in Nashville as she was in Peking, China. She is an ardent and invaluable member of Nashville alumnae chapter. And because of her gracious manner and vivid mode of expression she is one of the most sought-after lecturers in the city.

May has two children, Grace and Gordon. Grace is a sophomore at Swarthmore, and it is one of the regrets of May's life that Grace cannot be a Theta, since women's fraternities have been abolished at Swarthmore.

Messages from Afar

THIS MAGAZINE is grateful for the privilege of sharing with its readers these extracts from the correspondence of Miss Hortense Wickard, Kappa Alpha Theta's secretary for foreign lands.

AS MRS G. W. AVISON (Frances Goheen, A Epsilon) whose husband is in Y.M.C.A. at Kwang Ju, Korea, is the only other Theta in Chosen, my duties as Theta secretary for Korea have not been particularly arduous. However, we do enjoy talking shop à la Theta at our infrequent meetings." So writes Sue Comstock Adams (Mrs Edward) Psi, who sends in her correct address as—Taiku, Chosen.

We quote too a verse from one of Mrs Adams' recent poems:

Providence no time-clock setteth,
Waiteth patient for the fruit;
Blossom time hath too its own charm,
Certain moods doth better suit.
Faith upon experience grounded,
Hope with ever forward look,
These two sense encircling round,
And Love, Thy nature's perfect fruit.

From Yokohama, Japan, under date of April 29, 1934, Amy Hendricks Shafer (Mrs Luman J.) of Chi writes:

"I'm a Theta of Chi, 1910—a missionary wife for 21 years in Japan. Many ups and downs have been ours. We started out to be Evangelistic workers and after many forced changes have finally accepted the rôle of educational missionaries. My husband for the past ten years—since the great earthquake—has been principal of the oldest mission school for girls: Ferris Seminary, 1870. We now have 488 girls—444 in our junior and senior high school and 44 in the junior college. It is tremendously interesting work. We've rebuilt in reinforced concrete the whole school, and two residences and a dormitory in stucco, and completely reorganized the curriculum. We have so many plans we long to develop, a lunch room, a nursery practice school for our domestic science course, etc. We're inaugurating a health program with a visiting nurse who supervises our college students in their direction of the first and second year girls in health habits.

"Our religious program includes slum Sunday schools run by Christian students under supervision.

"We have a growing interest and cooperation in student government in a modified form.

"A really inspiring school, with a growing application list of girls of increasingly high qualifications—this year 329 from whom we chose 160, and finally eliminated to 90. Of these, only 38 had ever attended Sunday school—few had any Christian members in the family. Of our graduates in ten years about 50% are now Christian. Many hold leading positions in schools.

"Our own family has been unfortunate. Of four children, one died at two years, another at thirteen, seven years ago. Our daughter, 14, is just recovering from an appendicitis operation. Our remaining son has been suffering with T.B. so we are coming home this next week to try Saranac, possibly an operation. Our next address is 25 E. 22d st. New York."

From Ruth Thompson, Epsilon:

"When I read in your letter—which reached me some six weeks ago—that you had sent out last year 235 letters to Thetas outside of the United States and had had one direct answer, my conscience smote me hard. I knew perfectly well that one letter wasn't from me and I resolved that you should have at least one letter this year—and that from me. You see, that other woman may write again, which would make two, but one can't be certain.

"This idea of any glamour about living in foreign countries is frequently overdone. For example, what am I doing this morning? It's a holiday for the state funeral of Fleet-Admiral Togo, but I'm not going. The police have allotted all the space between the Togo house and the Park where the ceremonies are to take place, to members of various patriotic organizations, schools and so on. Five girls go from our college. Poor lambs, they will have to stand for hours. So, as stern duty doesn't call me to that function—what am I doing? Correcting compositions—romantic, isn't it?—and picking out two or three that may be good enough to go into the college paper. Also sending off an order to Thomas Nelson and sons in London, for some books of plays I must have, one of my jobs being coaching college dramatic performances. Why do we send to London instead of to the dear United States? Because—and that's a good reason—the English books are much cheaper.

"Thetas in Tokyo and Yokohama are almost as scarce as hens' teeth—and when we do meet it generally isn't as Thetas, but as members of the A.A.U.W. or something of that sort. It isn't, I think, that we have lost our loyalty to what was—in my case certainly—one of the best things in college life—but we turn naturally to the things which bring together rather than to what separates us into little groups. Our A.A.U.W. brings together Americans, Japanese women who have studied abroad, and women from British colleges and universities.

"Among the men's colleges and universities here in Japan there is a certain amount of intercollegiate activity but the women's colleges have, to the American mind at least, regrettably little to do with each other. This is partly, without doubt, because of the fear of communist propaganda which is in the minds of educational authorities.

"You may notice that the address on this letter isn't just what you have. That's because, when the college moved to this new place nearly three years ago, I naturally gave as my address the railway station village. But bless you, I was wrong. Our post office address is the village on the other side—where there is no railway station! And—we are under the police jurisdiction of still another village where we never have occasion to go! Don't ask me to explain. I cannot do it."

Now two messages from India:

"Your interesting letter and report were forwarded to me in Sat Tal where I had come from my holidays. I was pleased to have them. Another missionary Theta, Margaret Landrum, and I talked over all the things that used to be when we were in college, and had a lovely evening.

"Sat Tal, which means seven lakes, is a little hill station near Maini Tal in the Himalayas. It is popular because here Dr Stanley Jones has his Ashram. At Sat Tal there are about ten cottages outside the Ashram proper which has 45 'inmates' at present. We in the cottages enjoy the Ashram classes and vespers without being bound by the rules. After living all year by bells and rules we enjoy the cottages and independence for a holiday.

"The group here is interesting. There are Americans, English, Indians, all churches and Hindus. You can imagine the discussions possible in such a group.

"With this our recreation is swimming in a gem of a lake. It is called Emerald Lake and is beautifully clear and green. Today three of us are going to swim across it. After our swims we look forward to the picnic every day.

"After tea at 5:30 there is a lovely lake-side Vesper service. Dr Jones leads these and makes them so personal and inspirational. It is just what we need. This vacation is a real holiday."—Dorcas Hall, Mu. Address: M. E. Mission, Khandwa, India.

"I greatly enjoyed receiving your letter and the news it brought of Theta plans and projects.

"I am correctly registered at Tau chapter and paid it an interesting visit two years ago when I was at home in Evanston. But my contacts with any alumnae chapter are nonexistent. Maybe when I return to America next time I can gather the threads of relationship, as I may make a longer stay than heretofore.

"I am now in a Hill station in North India. We have an American school and high school here where our three daughters are at school from March to December. I am with them for four months of the year when the Plains of India get so hot that life there is difficult. Our eldest daughter graduates this December and will return next summer to America for her college work.

"While we are seven thousand feet in altitude we are still in the foothills of the Himalayas. The ranges of snow-capped peaks stretch out beyond us. There are many schools in this station, some are railway schools, some church schools, a large orphanage, and one college for men. This is an old station, begun by the Government before Mutiny days. Now we feel quite modern with electricity in our homes and some with modern conveniences. Woodstock school serves about four hundred children, about eighty per cent are American.

"In Lahore, our Plains station, my husband is the general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Lahore is the capitol of the Punjab and has the second largest number of college and university students in India. It is with this group that he is mainly interested and works. They are concerned with many of the same problems of students of other lands; unemployment, a new economic adjustment as well as the seeming crumbling of the old established order, social and religious. India also is facing a new political outlook. The 'White paper' is soon to become the new constitution for India, and in politics also, the future is a query.

"India is a fascinating place to live during these days of changes." Mildred F. Miller, Tau. Address: Tipperary, Landour, V. P.

The Red Cross Field

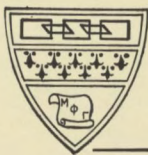

AMONG THE many calls upon college-trained men and women is that of volunteer service in the ranks of the American Red Cross. The qualities of temperament, as well as of mind, which make students and graduates so much in demand in business and in civic organizations, fit them ideally for the emergency and regular activities of local Red Cross chapters, of which there are more than 3,700.

Last year, for instance, there were 78 disasters in the United States in which the Red Cross gave relief to sufferers. Although each had the benefit of the experience and general direction of trained Red Cross disaster workers, the bulk of the work was performed by local chapters. The kind of teamwork found in football, basketball and other college sports was necessary to make effective the giving of shelter, food, medical attention, hospitalization and transportation to victims of flood, fire, and storm. Disasters are "extra-curricular" so far as communities are concerned. Quick thinking, organization ability, versatility, and enthusiasm are important assets of Red Cross workers and volunteers at such times. Chapter officers and committeemen recognize this and everywhere enlist the services of young men and women.

Depression years have seen the utilization of many young women volunteers schooled in home economics. Many chapters invite them to supervise food and nutrition projects and in many instances to conduct classes in these subjects. Students and graduates with a knowledge of social work have found their talents much needed where there is "case work" to do. Many who have found it difficult to obtain immediate employment at the end of the college year have entered wholeheartedly into production, braille, office, civilian home service, disaster, Roll Call and other activities of their home chapters. Thousands of these college men and women were once, as pupils in grade or common schools, members of the Junior Red Cross and have never entirely lost contact with the National relief agency.

This fall a great many college students will join with zest in extending by door-to-door invitation the Red Cross membership privilege to millions of homes. The Roll Call is from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, November 11-29, and supports work of Red Cross chapters in communities and the broad helpful program of the national organization.

THETAS IN THE PRESS

"GENO'S" SWITCH

Late in August 1924, Justice John Richard Caverly of Chicago heard the last arguments in the Loeb-Leopold murder case, retired to wrestle with the record and his conscience before deciding whether the boy-killers should live or die. To his door went two Chicago Tribune newshawks, a man and a woman. They were covering the trial, but this time they wanted no news. Hesitantly the man spoke up:

"You see, Judge, we heard that you're going to pass sentence Sept. 6, and of course that will be a hell of a big news break and we'll have to work like the devil, and, well, as a matter of fact Geno and I had figured on getting married that day and our plans are all set and. . ."

Plump, dew-lapped Judge Caverly beetled through his spectacles in amazement at the couple, said something secret. Newsman John Origen Herrick and Newswoman Genevieve Forbes dashed happily away, were married on schedule, had three whole days' honeymoon. They were back on the job Sept. 10, just in time to hear Judge Caverly sentence Loeb & Leopold to life imprisonment.

For the next ten years the by-lines of the Herrick's were familiar to the Tribune's 770,000 readers. John, quiet, studious-looking, became a crack member of the paper's Washington bureau, lately covering the Senate. Genevieve ("Geno") developed into one of the ablest women reporters at the Capital. When Mrs Roosevelt moved into the White House and began holding weekly press conferences, "Geno's" job became that much more important.

Last week the Herrick by-lines were divorced, though the couple stayed happily married. John's remained in the Tribune, but Genevieve switched over to the rival Chicago Daily News where it topped a new women's page column called "In Capitol Letters." The Administration-baiting Tribune said the change was due to disagreement over policy, with the implication that Mrs Herrick would not conform to the paper's hostile attitude toward the Roosevelts. She said she quit for sentimental reasons which only she would understand.

Vivacious, intelligent, with a master's degree in English from University of Chicago, "Geno" Herrick broke into the Tribune in 1918. Her most spectacular job was in 1921 when she crossed the Atlantic steerage, disguised as an Irish immigrant, went through the Ellis Island mill, reported her experiences. A frequent guest at diplomatic dinners, attractive "Geno" Herrick has amassed a wealth of Washington personalia which she reports in crisp, good-humored style. Excerpts from her first columns in the News:

"Mrs Homer Cummings calls her husband (6 ft. 2) 'Pinkie.' . . . Isa Glenn, novelist, meeting Mrs Johnson at tea, blurted out: 'Oh, Johnson's all right, just so it's no relation of that terrible general'—and spent the rest of the afternoon searching for a happy ending."

Time, July 30, 1934

[Kappa Alpha Theta is always proud of its "Geno," initiated by Tau chapter, and known to Thetas the country over. She always has time for courtesies to Thetas and counts her fraternity friend by hundreds. We are sorry the smiling picture of Geno that appeared originally with this article, became lost, strayed, or stolen, on its way to the printer.]

Eugene A. Gilmore, the new president of the University of Iowa, has two Thetas in his family. Mrs Gilmore is Blanche Basye, Alpha '96. Their daughter, Elizabeth, is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, where she was initiated into Psi chapter.

Linda Rhea, Alpha Eta, is the author of Hugh Swinton Legaré, a Charleston intellectual, published by the University of North Carolina. Miss Rhea has an M.A. in history from Columbia, and B.S., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Vanderbilt. She is at present secretary of Ward-Belmont school in Nashville, Tennessee.

"To show how American women for a century have laughed their way through life by the help of their needles, their scissors, their brushes and their chisels, and their pens" is the avowed purpose of Laughing their way. This is a book, so its sub-title announces, of "women's humor in America." The authors are Martha Bensley Bruere and Mary Ritter Beard, the latter a member of Alpha chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Jean Slavens, Beta Delta, was the winner of Kappa Alpha Theta's Alice Allen Brant fellowship in 1930.

She is now Dean of women at the University of Utah. An interesting discussion of The sorority and individual guidance was contributed by Miss Slavens to the May 1934 issue of Chi Omega's Elensis. Her practical suggestions are a valuable contribution to the Personnel work which Kappa Alpha Theta hopes may develop from the Rho service project.

Marjorie Binford was initiated by Alpha chapter, later transferred to Indiana University from which she received an A.B. degree in 1923.

For some years she has been Mrs Gerald E. Woods, but continues an active journalistic career. Recently she was promoted from the position of New York editor of Tower town topics to be New York editor of Inland topics, the new magazine of the Mississippi valley. The Woods live at Essex house, 160 Central Park South, New York City.

The Chicago Business Men's orchestra, appearing at Orchestra hall last night, holds itself out as an amateur organization, and thereby does more of a service to the cause of music than is apparent at first glance. For this eager organization shows how well music can be played by those who cultivate music from their own taste and desire. They are amateurs in the strict sense of the term.

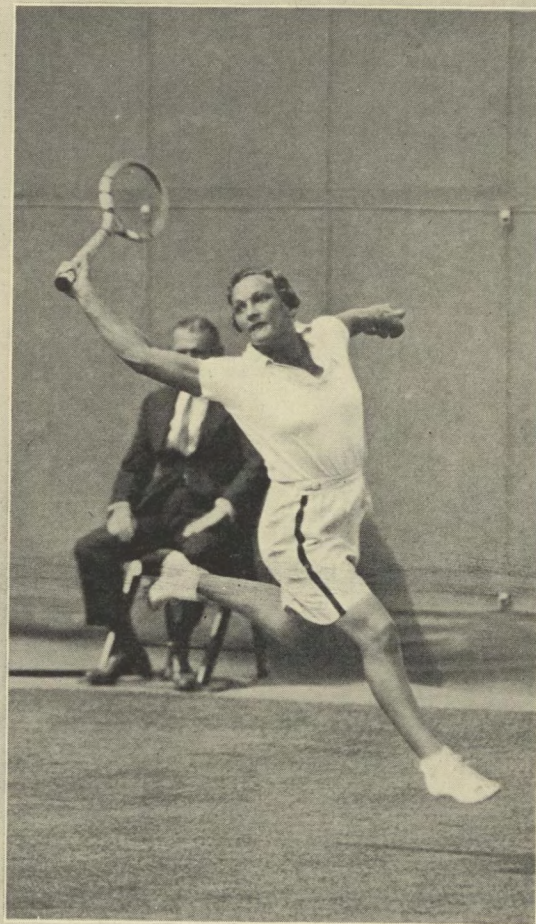

Their soloist was Margery Maxwell, soprano, and one of the finest singers in Chicago. Her singing was a good bit of a climax even to the uncommon interest of what the orchestra had presented. Mariette's Lied, a lovely, excerpt from Erich Wolfgang Korngold's opera, Die Tote Stadt, was followed by Richard Strauss' lovelier Cæcilie, and the two made up one of the striking performances of the season.

Here was quality of voice, musicianship, an expert sense of projection, and an altogether charming bit of imaginative interpretation. Miss Maxwell is plainly in the front rank as a concert singer.

Chicago Tribune, May 23, 1934

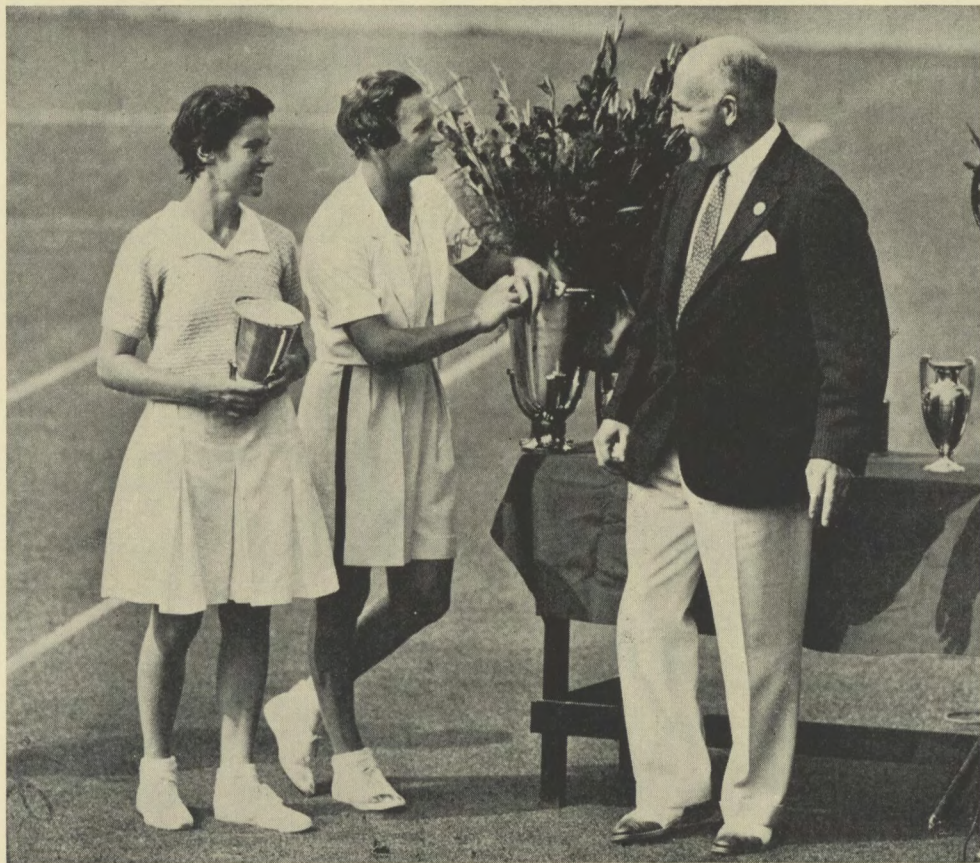

JEAN SCHRAM, Alpha Psi, who was Queen of the May at Lawrence college's 1934 May festival. Jean was also one of the "Four best loved" last year, this being the group of four senior women chosen each year by vote of all women students, and introduced at a banquet, "honoring magnanimity of personality, which refuses to recognize pettiness, or to be petty, and which has a generous and tolerant appreciation of every human being."

Helen Jacobs, Omega, has added another successful season of tennis to her record. In the Wimbledon tournament in England she reached the final round, but was defeated by Dorothy Round, England's number one player. She and Sarah Palfrey, of Brookline, Mass. unaided by their teammates, retained the English Wightman cup for America by defeating Dorothy Round and Margaret Scriven in the singles, and Mrs Kitty McKane Godfree and Betty Nuthall in the doubles. At Seabright, Helen lost the final round to Carolin Babcock, of Los Angeles. She wound up her season brilliantly by defeating Sarah Palfrey in the final round to win the American Women's Championship at Forest Hills for the third successive year.

CHAPTER NEWS

ALPHA DePauw

Alpha is still a little breathless and, of course, elated over the results of rush. Because of a recent Panhellenic ruling, we were limited to twenty-five pledges, but the new children were decreased no less than that. Naturally, we are quite sure that this is the best pledge class ever. It includes: Betty Ayres, Rockville; Dorothy Beler, Janet Dow, Christy Kissling, Dorothy Richardson, Evelyn Stick, Chicago; Patty Birch, Danville, Illinois; Mary Virginia Butler, Marion; Helen George, Franklin; Catherine Greene, Mary Janet Hamilton, Evanston, Illinois; Jeanne Hamilton, Garrett; Charlo Holden, Elgin, Illinois; Mary Margaret Huber, Sally Ritchie, Lebanon; Frances McCormick, Albany; Virginia Neal, Noblesville; Peggy Offutt, Greenfield; Genevieve O'Hair, Greencastle; Anne Stephens, Evansville; Janet Wright, Wilmette, Illinois; Dorothy Young, Jane Brown, Indianapolis; and Elizabeth Yount, Bedford.

Rush was a trip around the world, with English and Japanese teas in the afternoons and visits at night to Antarctica, a Mexican dive, and Pansyland, the last night where we gave our preference dinner dance. Informal pledging Saturday night ended a hectic but satisfying week. Formal pledging, September 27, initiated the pledges into the routine of pledge life. A buffet supper for pledges, members, and alumnae was served.

Jeanne Smith and Virginia Andrews are members of Mortar board. Virginia is also president of Theta Sigma Phi. Isabel Whitcomb and Lucy Ann Balch were appointed sophomore members of Mirage, yearbook, staff. Several Thetas are on the staff of the DePauw newspaper.

Virginia Fowler is wearing the junior ring, as the most representative woman in the junior class. Lucy Ann Balch has brought laurels to Theta scholarship by receiving the highest rating in freshman class.

GAMMA DEUTERON Ohio Wesleyan

Constituting 45% of Mortar board,

five Thetas are among the eleven members: Carolyn Clingerman, president; Virginia Eggleston, treasurer; Helen Beal, editor; Carolyn Brogan, and Georgiana Redrup.

Alpha Gamma Delta selected Nancy Badley as Ohio Wesleyan's outstanding freshman woman, and presented her with a silver rose bowl. Besides being president of Stuyvesant hall, Nancy was head of Freshman commission and active in athletics.

Gamma deuteron placed second in the point average race to retain possession of the Panhellenic scholarship teapot another semester. Alpha Delta Theta which took first, went off campus last June.

Helen Beal is the first associate editor of Transcript, college semi-weekly, and is also creator of its popular column, "Beal-lieve Me." Georgiana Redrup succeeds Harriette Crawford as women's editor, and Barbara Gould becomes the fifth Theta to be issue editor.

Emily Wells bosses English writers' club, while Virginia Eggleston heads Phi Pi Epsilon. Selected by university officials, Virginia, together with Carolyn Clingerman, advises freshmen. Women's student government association finds Mary Jane Barrett an efficient judiciary secretary.

Omicron Delta Kappa selected Dorothy Jewitt to reign at its annual dance May 4, after Dorothy, Clara Bundy, Delta Gamma, and Harriette Hatch, Kappa Kappa Gamma, were named in a student body poll.

The chapter entertained alumnae returning for Commencement week-end with a tea June 2.

DELTA Illinois

Delta is happy to announce the initiation of Dorothy Foley, Betty Byers, and Jane Chilcott, all of Evanston; Betty Hanna, Beverly Hills; Alice Deal, Springfield; and Betty McNutt, Chicago, October 4.

Under the able direction of Betty Gaa, rushing chairman, and Marion Frank, her assistant, Delta has completed a most successful rush, and is proud to tell of the pledging of Audrey Jane Truitt (sister of Mary Alice Truitt Horne, Alpha Delta) Naperville; Ruth Ladd (sister of Eleanor Ladd, Rho) Kewanee; Deborah Newcomb (daughter of Geraldine Bullard Newcomb) Champaign; Betty Luetscher (daughter of Adele Garrles Luetscher, Alpha Iota) Peru; Ellen Schnebly, Urbana; Beverly Tally, Jean Hoebel, Edith McKinstry, all of Chicago; Mary Rita Farley, Aurora; Betty Anne Kuhn, Rock Island; Emmy Lou Smith, Sally McEvoy, both of Decatur; Ruth Sethness, Park Ridge; Mary Kemp (sister of Katherine Kemp Warren), Paxton; and Barbara Diehl, Centralia.

The chapter is joining in the general excitement of preparing for Home-coming, October 13. There will be the usual banquet at the chapter house for all college and alumnae Thetas. The pledges have started preparation for the stunt to be given that evening for alumnae. Dorothy Scholl and Jane Chilcott are in charge of decorating the house. Audrey Jane Truitt and Betty Merriam are on the University alumni committee.

Betty Anne Kuhn is on the staff of Siren, the university's humor magazine. Mildred Fisher has just been elected to Student Senate committee.

Theta now occupies fourth place in scholarship in campus. The previous semester Theta was fifth. We are conducting a scholarship drive within the chapter, and hope that with the spirit of co-operation prevalent during rushing continuing, we may win first place this semester.

RUTH POWNALL

1 October 1934

Married: Williamina Farnham to W. A. Klepinger. 7648 Oglesby av. Chicago, Ill.—Ellen Martin to Mr Evans. 5334 Kenmore av. Chicago, Ill.

New addresses: Julia M. Thompson Strange (Mrs Vernon L.) 5101 39th av. Apt. 431, Long Island City, N.Y.—Mrs Etheridge Grant, P.G. school, U.S.N. Academy, Annapolis, Md.

ETA Michigan

We are all back with the exception of Mary Alice Krieger, who is expected to return in February. After an intensive rushing season we are pleased to announce the pledging of twenty girls October 7. They are: Helen Dodenhoff, Edith Herrick, Doris Holt, Patricia Nelson, Emily Phelps, Mary Elizabeth Porter, Adeline Singleton, from Detroit; Jean Bonisteel, Helen Hanley, Hope Hartwig, Mary Johnson, from Ann Arbor; Betty Barth, Yale; Geraldine Fitzgerald, Buffalo, New York; Cora Nielson, Manistee; Betsy O'Dell, Bloomfield; Betty Ronal, Monroe; Harriet Shackleton, Joliet, Illinois; Katherine Shields, Grand Rapids; Irene Stilson, Los Angeles, California; Peggy Van Vleck, Paw Paw.

ELIZABETH NICOL

10 October 1934

Married: Marjorie O. Paulson to Willis C. Moffatt, 1318 State st. Boise, Ida.—Muriel Anderson to Paul Blackburn Steed, June 16. 709 Hazelwood st. Detroit, Mich.—Ruth Stesel to Horton Stickle, Mar. 16. 2009 Fillmore av. Buffalo, N.Y.

New address: Vesta M. Farmer Fassig (Mrs Russell) 5823 Cabanne av. St. Louis, Mo.

IOTA Cornell

Iota terminated a highly successful rushing season October 8 by pledging Nathalie Colvocoresses, Phoenix, Arizona; Virginia Dominis, Honolulu, Hawaii; Betty Jane Harris, Watertown; Gertrude Johnson, Detroit, Michigan; Helen Brew, Elizabeth Ladd, Sarah Poole, Julia Ann Robb, Pauline Moran, Ithaca; Sigrid Persson, Syracuse; Marjorie Oliver, Rockville Center; Nelly Scott, Petersburg, Virginia; Almeda Shutts, Ballston Spa; Johnnie Belle Thomas, Tuscaloosa, Alabama; Charlotte Throop, Shanghai, China; and Virginia Wadsworth, Northboro, Massachusetts. Jeani McVitty, Princeton, New Jersey, was pledged a few days later. Ithaca alumnæ entertained us with the usual delicious buffet supper on pledge night.

Our new chaperon, Mrs Claude Case of Clifton Springs, was an invaluable asset during rushing. She has already won our love and admiration with her charming ways and unfailing zest and enthusiasm. We are going to give a tea for her tomorrow, and it will be a proud day for the chapter.

We lost Margaret Bentley, Ellen Cook, Marion Hough, Jean Kennedy, Eleanor Magill, Wilhelmina Slaght, and Hannah Wray through graduation. Marge is attending Miller institute in New York city. Jean is doing canvassing work for a telephone company in Lansford, Pennsylvania. Everyone else in the chapter returned, except Marjorie Webb who transferred to Smith.

A pleasant surprise came last week, a five-pound box announcing the engagement of Marcella Hauser to William Schmidt.

This is the week-end of the big Syracuse football game, and many Theta alums are dashing in and out. Helen Burritt, Margaret Bentley, Jean Kennedy, Marion Hough, Olive Emslie are among those we have greeted joyously. We hope to see many more before the week-end is over.

Iota has members in every organization on the hill, as well as many positions in student government. Nat Colvocoresses, pledge, will probably be the first woman to play on a Cornell polo team. Needless to say, the news caused a great furor on campus, and Thetas are proud of her. Other pledges have already been given important positions in their class.

ELEANOR M. STAGER

KAPPA We were pleased when college opened to have forty-two active girls back. Rush week was the usual hustle and bustle. September 16 we pledged 13 grand girls: Jeanette Bowen (daughter of Edith Davis Bowen) Joella Brice, Nancy Calhoun (sister of Loula Flora Calhoun Maguire) Catherine Conklin, Martha Davis, Betty Eidson, Maria Forbes, Jean Haines (sister of Margaret, Helen, and Mary Ann) Lucy Lee Hawks, Betty Ruth Smith, Alice Team (sister of Virginia) Marjorie Wahl, and Helen von Unwerth (daughter of Helen Calhoun von Unwerth).

Besides these pledges we have with us: Mary Grace Linscott and Gladys Fawcett, both of Alpha Upsilon; Elinor Perry, Alpha Omicron; Marian Fisher and Nadine Ingleman, both of Beta Kappa.

We are proud that Margaret McNown was elected to Mortar board. Joella Brice, Ruth Armstrong, Martha Jane Shaffer, Jean Russell, Dorothy Fry, Maude Hough, and Jean McKeen are all members of Glee club. Joella also has been elected to the dramatic club, of which Florence Lebrecht is secretary.

On the Dean's Honor roll for last year were Catherine Hartley, Betty Creager, Florence Lebrecht, Mary Nicholson, Mary Ellen Miller, Jean Russell, Mary Julia Jones, and Carolyn Harper.

Betty Schwartz was chosen vice-president of Delta Phi Delta. Mary Ellen Miller is secretary of Quack club. Emma Jo Swaney has been elected a member of McDowell club; Emma Jo is also secretary of Tau Sigma, dancing organization.

Mary Lou Bagby is honorary colonel of R.O.C.T. We are proud to have two Thetas holding offices in Student council: Margaret Sherwood is president of W.S.G.A., and Margaret McNown, treasurer.

October 27 we will initiate services for Barbara Bramwell, Barbara Everham, Katherine Moodie, Mary Frances Schultz, Martha Jane Shaffer, and Elizabeth Shearer.

September 28, we held open house for pledges. The usual mob was in attendance, but in spite of pushing and bumping, everyone had a grand time.

LAMBDA Vermont

With one of last year's graduates married, others engaged or starting on careers, we are forced to realize that Nancy Campbell, Janet Dodds, Marjorie Hayden, Virginia Herr, Betty Lane, Alice McConnell, Marion Mitchell, Claribel Morris, Florence Morse, Mary Poling, and Laura Tracy all graduated in June. Betty Lane, who wore the Jacobs robe at Commencement for having the highest scholarship record in her class, is now studying psychology at Radcliffe, Mary Poling is also continuing her studies, at Simmons school of social service. Janet Dodds is teaching nutrition in Burlington, Claribel Morris has a secretarial position, Barbara Wears has left Vermont to attend Prince School in Boston.

Betty McLeod is back after a year's absence. We initiated Edith Petrie, Danvers, Massachusetts; Alice Hamilton, Newton, Massachusetts; and Margaret Lockwood, Sparta, New Jersey, May 14.

The past year Theta ranked second in scholarship, Alpha Xi Delta, first.

Two Thetas are in Mortar board, Elizabeth Rich and Helen Miller. Helen was also director of Freshman Camp, attended in this, its fifth year at Vermont, by sixty freshman women. Carolyn Hill was assistant director. Members of Y.W.C.A. cabinet, who assisted at the camp, included Katherine Babbitt and Frances Rowe. Frances Rowe was one of two Vermont delegates to the Silver Bay conference.

Winona Oatley is vice-president of senior class. Harriet Gray and Margaret Lockwood are members of W.A.A. Council. Elizabeth Haig won the campus tennis tournament last spring. Mary Kay Tupper, and Elizabeth Haig are campus managers of hockey and tennis. Masque and Sandal, dramatic society, has two Theta members, Winona Oatley and Lois Whitcomb. Lois, Betsy Gallup, and Alice Hamilton are in Bluestockings, literary society, Alice as secretary-treasurer. Lois Whitcomb was co-author of a charming Oriental pageant given on Lilac day last spring. Betty Lane, Alice McConnell, Claribel Morris, and Elizabeth Haig had leading parts.

Honors awarded at June Spread: Carolyn Hill received from Elizabeth Rich the Emma L. Votey pin, given the member of Lambda best typifying courage, perseverance, and loyalty; the Molly Mills pin, given to the member doing the most for the chapter, was given to Natalie Richardson by Marjorie Hayden.

The year closed with a rainy and hilarious house party at Winona Oatley's camp at Cedar Beach.

Barbara Wiers is attending Prince school in Boston.

Janet Dodds is school nutritionist in Burlington.

Engaged: Nancy Campbell to Nathan Ricker.—Janet Hazen Dodds to Jesse Rust, jr.—Marjorie Hayden to Madison Brown.

MU Allegheny

How small the chapter seems without the seven who graduated last spring! They were: Helen Morrow, Betty Blake, Sally Goldsmith, Ruth Johannesmeyer, Dorothy Day, Virginia Jane Miller, and Elizabeth Van Kirk, the last three winning Phi Beta Kappa.

Spring semester Theta stood second in scholarship. Theta won for the third consecutive time the athletic plaque, which makes the trophy permanently ours.

Kaldron, year book, boasted two Thetas in the charm section, Kitty Roos and Velma Briggs. Thetas by classes listed as representative girls were: Ruth Meyers, Kathryn Miller, Betty Ashe, and Amy Bishop.

Helen Morrow was May queen. She was attended by two other Thetas, Sally Goldsmith and Dorothy Day. It surely was a red letter May Day for Mu.

During the summer, Theta camp at Van Buren point was headquarters for district chapters. Mu occupied it the last two weeks of August. We staged there a superior rushing tea under the direction of Eliza Jane Anderson, newly elected president of Allegheny athletic board, and prize rush chairman.

By changed Panhellenic rules, we will have but one week of active rushing, followed by a genuine preferential bid for the first time in many years. The change in policy led to a sketchy and premature rush season, with the usual problems, which seem to vex even the best of us, such as where all the spoons and china went during the summer.

September 28 we gave our one allowed rush party, entertaining with an original skit and songs, some thirty freshman guests.

With a new and enthusiastic Advisory board just "rearing to go," and with many Thetas holding prominent campus offices, the year promises to be one of the best.

AMY BISHOP

28 September 1934

Married: Betty Blake to Warren Vincent Cameron Aug. 5.—Louise Powers to Frederick Haberman, Sept. 12. Meadville, Pa.—Constance Graham to David F. Marsh.—Eleanore Taylor to William Hay, June 15. 1857 E. 82nd st. Cleveland, Ohio.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Bolard (Mary Taylor) a daughter.

OMICRON Southern California

Gist, Barbara Hall, Bessie Hostettler, Maurine Hostettler, Jeannette Hunt, Letitia Rees, Elizabeth Rogers, Francine Roome, Los Angeles; Dorothy McCume, Jane Rosemberger, Monrovia; Rosemary Suydam, Nancynell Swaffield (sister of Roberta Swaffield Webber), Long Beach; Phyllis Proudfit, Shadron, Nebraska. A buffet supper at the chapter house followed.

Previous to fall rushing, Omicron entertained throughout the summer with many rush affairs, including a beach party at Balboa, a theater party at the Pasadena Community play house, and luncheons at the Jonathan and Beach clubs.

On returning to college the chapter was pleasantly surprised to discover that the house had been completely redecorated and new book shelves added to meet the demands of our ever increasing library.

We are glad to welcome back Bobbie Townsend, who was out the previous semester as a result of an appendectomy. Also we are happy to affiliate Virginia Williams, Beta Xi. We are sorry to lose Mary Grigsby, attending the University of California at Los Angeles.

Last spring's graduating seniors were Ruth Bradford, Dorothy Edmonds, Caroline Ferrey, Ethel Redfield, Doris Luellen, and Mary Louise Bouelle and Dorothy Clark both graduating cum laude.

Betty Wathey is president of Sophomore club and chairman of the dance committee for El Rodeo, year book. Jeannette Hunt, new pledge, is her assistant. Marjorie Bailie is chairman of the freshman advisory committee.

RHO Nebraska

Formal rushing was before college began this fall, and proved much less hectic than usual for both members and rushees. Rho had six rush parties, and at the Saturday night preference party sixteen perfectly grand girls were given Theta pledge ribbons. The pledges are: Pat Brott (daughter of Helen Kingsley Brott) York; Maren Dobson, Betty Lou Magee, Kathryn Adams, and Eleanor Farrell, all of Lincoln; Betty Hoyt, Jane Locke, Jane Eldridge, Jean Hastings, and Flora Mae Rimerman, all of Omaha; Margaret Gillispie, Falls City; Helen Nolte, Hiawatha, Kansas; Virginia Chain, Seward; Doris Foreman, David City; Doris Hoglund, Riverside, Illinois; Marjorie Franke, Springfield, Illinois.

On Ivy Day, May 3, Violet Cross was chosen president of Mortar board. Caroline Van Anda was one of two senior attendants to May Queen. Theta won the Intersorority sing.

This year Violet Cross has gone from the editorship of the Daily Nebraskan to the same position on the Nebraska Alumnus, monthly magazine. Faith Arnold is one of two managing editors of Cornhusker, yearbook, is a commission leader, serves on the executive council of W.A.A. Elizabeth Shearer, a Theta Tassel, is at present in charge of the student athletic ticket sales campaign. Mary Yoder is on sports board of W.A.A. and is sophomore member of A.W.S. where she will have charge of the All-activities tea, October 4.

Jane Youngson, Theta Prom girl last March, is to be one of eight countesses at the annual Ak-Sar-Ben ball in Omaha, October 12, and Jane Eldridge, this year's pledge, is to be a princess.

MARTHA DEWEESE

29 September 1934

Married: Mildred Kipp to Paul Charlton, Φ Γ Δ, June 16.—Zetta Johnson to Ralph Trestor, Φ K Φ, June 30.—Helene Magee to Robert Verner, Δ T, Sept. 22.—Janet Ordean Spencer to M. B. Heisner, 1366 S. Josephine st. Denver, Colo.

Bereniece Hoffman has been awarded a scholarship in political science at the University of Nebraska.

Hazel Struble Stebbins (Mrs Harold) has been elected to membership in the Junior League.

Camille Hall Davis (Mrs Ellery) contributes much of her time and talent to the Lincoln Civic Music Association.

SIGMA Toronto

Last spring, as soon as final examinations were over, ten Sigmas scurried off to Cedar Villa on Balsam Lake for the annual house-party. We were delighted to have twelve alumnæ spend the week-end with us there.

On arriving back after house-party we had a theater party for our graduating members—Primrose Sandiford, Mary Wicher, Carol Clark, Dama Lumley, Mickey Cox and Isobel Price. After the theater, we all gathered at Jessie Fleming's house where the graduates were each given engraved compacts.

Sigma was thrilled to have Eleanor Riggs win the lovely prize awarded at Grand convention for her efficient work as chapter treasurer.

We have a new home, an apartment at 13 Washington avenue. It is much roomier and brighter than our flat on Willcocks street, and even though the move meant making new curtains and painting some of the furniture, we feel that it was really worth while.

September 21, the alumnæ held a shower-tea, each alumna being asked to bring a small gift for the apartment or a small money donation. Many of the alumnæ also brought large trays, tea services and the like, to be used during rushing.

Mrs Florence Hargreaves Ignatieff took charge of the two rushing teas in the apartment September 24 and 25. September 26, the alumnæ (with Elizabeth McLennan in charge) staged a rushing party at the Barnio in the form of an English Fair. There was a bagatelle board, a roulette wheel, a weight guesser, a dart-throwing competition, a game of miniature quoits, a fortune-teller, a flower-vendor, and all things which are characteristic of English Fairs.

Rushing was made much more pleasant for the college chapter by this kind assistance on the part of the alumnae.

LOUISE WHYTOCK

28 September 1934

New address: Mary Wyndow Ferguson (Mrs Kenneth) 130 High st. London, Ont. Canada.

Isobel Price is working in the Actuarial department of the Manufacturer's life insurance co.

Primrose Sandiford left Sept. 27 for London, Eng. where she will work for the Dent publishing co.

Dr Elizabeth Stockdale has opened an office of her own in Toronto.

Isabel Jordon is attending the Ontario college of education during the day and giving a series of lectures on Canadian fiction in the University extension courses at night. Jean Lang and Anna Stockdale will also attend O. C. E. this year.

Dr Gwen Mulock, formerly of St. Catherines, is practicing in Toronto.

UPSILON Minnesota

Mrs Bathke, president of District X, hies away to northern climes with Upsilon president, Janet Poore, to visit Beta Chi and to make timely notes on Canadian fall rushing.

Minnesota Thetas, however, carry on in the absence of their chief, and into attic trunks went flying hands to emerge triumphantly with costumes donned by enthusiastic Thetas for the Wednesday night Old-fashioned dinner. Thursday noon was the date of the Birthday luncheon with twelve-candled angel food cakes decorating the tables, and hair-ribbons adorning the rushers. The theme for Thursday evening was black and white; each Theta was dressed in one of the two colors. Friday night the house was transformed into a cosmopolitan hotel with bell-hop service providing the necessary "front." Telegrams announced the rushers, who signed their names in the fraternity register. Formal dinner on Saturday eve provided the loveliest motif of all, the Theta black and gold color scheme being used.

Our newly decorated living-room, music room, and hall were one of our nicest assets during rushing. Under the excellent direction of Mrs Marian Holtz Nellermeoe, and with the kind co-operation and financial aid of Minneapolis alumnae, and our Mothers' club, the redecorating was made possible. In the living-room the new circular mirror reaching from ceiling to mantel of the fireplace reflects white furniture against white and deep apricot background with matching draperies and white Venetian blinds. The music room is likewise done in apricot and white, with a brown love-seat and apricot edged cushions. Cream and blue wallpaper and cream colored woodwork were chosen for the hall.

During winter quarter Upsilon advanced from thirteenth to ninth place in scholarship rankings of women's fraternities.

PHI Stanford

Our last letter was in May, and this is September—during which time lapse several bomb-shells have descended on Phi. For one, sophomore Louise Chappell eloped to Reno with Bill Shepherd, Zeta Psi, and got secretly married; this was the first week of June. The marriage was made public in the newspapers two days later. Should one be interested in seeing the Shepherds this year, they will be living in Mayfield and both will continue with their Stanford education.

Marriages—and romantic ones—seem to be the theme now however, among Phi Thetas. Mary Patten married Louis Creveling, a promising young architect and former Stanfordite, their address being 1177 Woodbury road, Altadena, California. Then, even before college closed, our blonde house-president, Marion Slonaker, announced her engagement to brawny Bill Warren, Delta Kappa Epsilon. Needless to say, if there is one more marriage or engagement in our vicinity we soberer members of Phi will have to go back to college in rags. This gift business!

Barbara Young, graduated in June, was awarded Phi Beta Kappa. Helen Ray, senior this year, was elected vice-president of student body for 1934-35.

To our disappointment, several Thetas who left Stanford last June with the determination to return, are not coming back, for illness or other reasons. Virginia Roddick, Kay Fuller, Virginia Keim, Janet Howard, and Esther May Patten, are the for-sure-not-returning members.

About that new house of ours: reports are controversial, in regard to its probable completion by October 1, when we swarm back. The only point upon which every eyewitness agrees is that it is going to be stunning. At least the bedrooms and dining-room will be completed by the opening of Stanford. But otherwise it looks as if our lives are going to be thoroughly mixed with plaster, step-ladders, bricks, and workmen for several weeks after our arrival. (The delay is not our fault, let me hasten to add. It is due to the San Francisco strike, and the fact that ferries were not in operation, and the further fact that the contractor we had chosen lived across the bay!!!)

One further glory before I close: Joan Macgowan, pledge last year, won the Stanford woman's golf championship just before college closed, and subsequently has been winning tournaments around Southern California. Elizabeth Endress has been journeying around the East, dropping in now and then for week-end visits on the Tom Posts (Ann Milburn), who reside at Geneva, New York. Janet Howard also was in New York all summer, visiting her father.

ELEANOR HARRIS

21 September 1934

Married: Elizabeth Hopper to Spencer Davies, E N. 363 Beloit, Brentwood Hgts. Sta. Los Angeles, Calif.—Mona Dutton to Herbert Lionel Elvin, a professor at Cambridge. They will live in London.—Anne Frick to John Keller, Apr. 7.—Louise Chappell to Willard Shepherd, May 26.—Dorothy Nay to Howard J. Brown.

New addresses: Helen Green Cross (Mrs Robert W.) 434 Rossmore av. Pasadena, Calif.—Caroline Neilson, Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N.H.

Dr Clelia Duel Mosher received an LL.D. from Mills College in June.—Leona Belser Dickema, H, is head of Roble Hall.

CHI Syracuse

Our house isn't quite so overflowing as last year due to the graduation of Myrna Agor, Beatrice Churchill, Rosemary Crawford, Genevieve Davidson, Eleanor Dewitt, Elizabeth Dunn, Mildred Enright, Doris Hall, Marie Heubner, Eleanor Brooks, Julie Iglehart, Helen Keuchle, Betty Mains, Marguerite Stott and Peg Mahoney. We also miss Betty Nield and Roserey Rohrbaugh both unable to return this fall.

Claudia Terry was elected president of Women's athletic association and Jane Bradley, secretary of the Y.W.C.A. Chi also won the intramural basketball cup last April. Beatrice Churchill was elected to Phi Kappa Phi and Nancy Papworth was pledged to Alpha Epsilon Epsilon, Home economics society.

Rushing started September 28 with Syracuse trying still another system of rushing. Each house is only allowed six rush parties. We all are wondering how it will turn out.

Chi is happy to welcome Marion Iglehart, Gamma deuterion (cousin of Margaret, Nannie, Nettie and Julie, Chi) who transferred this year from Ohio Wesleyan.

OMEGA
California

We are 45 strong, having welcomed Kathleen Kaetzel and Shirley Douglas back into the fold, besides making the acquaintance of Beta Delta's Margaret Mills, and taking our second consecutive class of thirteen pledges; Betty Cox, Westley; Patricia Elston, and Sally McDougal, Los Angeles; Marion Meredith, Sacramento; Lillian Sloan, Geraldine Spreckels, and Barbara Sutton, San Francisco; Patricia Droste, Jane Pollard, and Dorothy Uelsman, Piedmont; Barbara Hostetter, Lindsay; Betty Rowell (sister of Carolyn Rowell) and Betty Lou Yelton, Berkeley. Betty Lou Yelton won the beauty contest held as part of the annual Derby for new pledges, and received a cup and an invitation to the Sigma Chi pledge dance.

Through graduation we are sorry to have lost Edwarda Adams, Carol Wright, Joan Edgerton, Mary Kindt, and Vadna Rich.

There are twenty-one girls living in the house, making necessary the conversion of our study-hall into a bedroom. A new study-hall check-up has been devised, however, and we hope for a continued rise in scholarship.

On September 26 we initiated Betty Bunker, Jean Higgins, Piedmont; Anna Gould, Modesto; Edith Hadden, Virginia Lyon, Berkeley; and Bettyann MacDavid, Long Beach. At the same ceremony we affiliated Margaret Mills, Beta Delta.

The chapter is proud of having twenty-two members signed up for Intramural sports. Anne Gould is vice-president of sophomore class. Betty Lyon and Marjorie Hart have been invited to join Ace of clubs, the highest social society of upper-class women. Joan Skinner was initiated into Thalian players, women's dramatic society, September 5. Joan took the lead in Everett Glass's production The Devil passes and she has won the only feminine role in Yellow Jacket.

ALPHA GAMMAOhio State

May 5 Alpha Gamma initiated Charlotte Bailey (sister of Mary Jane Bailey) Zanesville, Ohio, Grace Montgomery, Elizabeth Clark (daughter of Catherine McMean) and Anne Rutherford (daughter of Adistina Hendrix) all of Columbus.

We are proud of our activities and honoraries. Freshman recognition was given to Margaret Marquart, Bette Butterworth, Martha DeVennish, Mary Elizabeth Deming, Anne Rutherford, and Elizabeth Clark. Two juniors were elected to Chimes, Ruth Ervin and Jane Anne Evans, president. We have on Mortar board, Doris Campbell, Ellen Chubb and Virginia Stark, president. Ellen Chubb was made president of Browning dramatic society. Jean Reeder is president of Chi Delta Phi, national literary honorary, other members of which are Ruth Ervin, Bette Butterworth, Betty Howe and Ellen Chubb. We have one Phi Beta Kappa, Blair Lytle. Virginia Stark and Betty Bussey were elected to Tau Sigma Delta, fine arts fraternity. Doris Campbell is first vice-president of Y.W.C.A. of which Jane Anne Evans is second vice-president. Ruth Ervin will act as circulation manager of Sun dial.

We wish to thank Mary Louise Brand for one of the grandest parties we ever had.

Rush week started today with a tea at the chapter house. Anne Lisle, senior, Peggy Cashatt, junior, and Ruth Palmer, sophomore are the committee in charge. Rushing is confined to Freshman week, so that it will not conflict with classes.

We are sorry to lose Grace Montgomery to Denison and Virginia Axline to Lake Erie. We welcome Harriet Dodds from Goucher and Emily Winship from William and Mary. Both are living in the house.

DOROTHY MOORE

27 September 1934

ALPHA DELTA Goucher

Sunday before graduation, the chapter gave a tea for the seniors and their Commencement guests. Patricia Bonsall, Ruth Davis, Marjorie Faust, Mary Louise Kent, and Betty Martenet graduated. Our gifts to them were cigarette cases with the Theta seal. They presented the chapter with a card table.

We had our house-party after Commencement, at Claiborne on the Eastern shore of the Chesapeake, ate the usual amount of crabmeat, and had more than the usual amount of fun.

Jean Bennett is our new president.

We are proud of Dorothy Gillespie, Elizabeth Lloyd White, and Helen Cort, whose names were on the Honor Roll for last year, announced at the October Convocation service.

Rushing begins October 13. We are redecorating the rooms, and have some big plans for this fall.

We are sorry to lose Fritz Harris, who has transferred to the University of Nebraska.

ALPHA ETA
Vanderbilt April 15 initiation was held for Dorothy Brady and Frances Prewitt. Viola Sorrelle was initiated at convention.

Alpha Eta is justly proud of its achievements for May. Theta won the ticket cup for the annual co-ed stunt night. In spring elections five Thetas were given offices on W.S.G.A. Jane Brown, president; Sarah Bryan, vice-president; Elizabeth Dandridge, secretary-treasurer; Kathrine Harris, co-ed representative on Student union; and Katherine Rolston, president of Honor committee.

Eight Thetas graduated: Sara Marie Cason, magna cum laude, Barbara Denman, cum laude, Danice Jordan, Kathryn Lynch, Ella Puryear Mims, magna cum laude, Adelaide Shull, Henrietta Spicer, and Adele Youngberg. We entertained them May 26 at a banquet when they were presented with crested favors of their own choice.

We are sorry to lose five other girls. Martha Billington is to be married October 6. Emily Davis is studying art at home. Bettye King is attending the University of Louisville. Grace Ellen Glasgow is at home. Martha Noel is at the University of Southern California.

Paula Bradshaw, Beta Mu, and Virginia Baxley, Beta Nu, have just transferred. Helen White, Alpha Theta, has affiliated.

Mary Erwin Stoves was elected to an office in Eta Sigma Phi. Sarah Colton and Kathryn Swiggart made Sophomore Honor Roll.

Alpha Eta finished a successful rush season with the pledging of Mary Louise Bear-den, Mary Brown (sister of Jane) Margaret Brugh, Annie Grigsby Campbell, Henriette Hickman, Mary Wattles, and Ann Wright, all of Nashville; Frances Hale, Old Hickory; Mary Lee Pardue, Gallatin; Harriet Edgerton and Charlotte Humphreys, Lebanon; and Ann Shaw, Albany, Georgia.

Kress Italian Art Exhibit, shown at the Parthenon, Nashville, Tenn., July 12 through October 15, 1934.—Sara Cason, Elinor Ewing and Martha Baskett have positions with the Davidson County Welfare Commission, Nashville, Tenn.—Mary Lynn Dobson Armistead (Mrs Harrison) Anne Akers Konrad (Mrs E. G.) and Katherine Payne Chester (Mrs John) were out of town guests at the annual senior banquet in June.—Elizabeth Kerr sang at a Paramount theater in New York during the week of Aug. 1, 1934. She broadcasts every Saturday night over a New York station, and is studying, as Betty Kerr, under Walter Keisenwelter.

ALPHA THETA Texas

This fall the University of Texas reestablished freshman pledging. Alpha Theta found it successful. We are proud of our pledges: De Rheta Alderman, Pearl Louise Wooldridge, Elen Hoard, El Paso; Mary Amos, Denton; Ida Mae Autrey (sister of Elizabeth), Ione Hudson, Port Arthur; Coleta Baker, Margaret Ann Randolph, Plainview; Odell Brennan, Katherine Leter, Lila Wirtz, San Antonio; Caroline Brownlee, Alma Buass, Katherine Owens, Yvonne Thornton, Austin; Marie Chandler, Galveston; Marjorie Culbertson, Waxahatchee; Emma Lee Godby, Ardmore, Oklahoma; Martha Harwood (sister of Margaret) Kerrville; Virginia Ann Hindman, Margaret Holliday, Mary Kiley (daughter of Myrtle Garrett Kiley) Marie Peckinpugh, Houston; Marion Kelly, Amarillo; Katherine Klett, Lubbock; Mary La Roe, Palestine; Arledge Lipscomb, Margaret Lipscomb, Rose Mary Wahrmund, Beaumont; Mildred Marshall (sister of Katherine) Quannah; Margaret McClung (sister of Mary Neill McClung), Jane Kinley, Ruth Richenstein (sister of Frances) Dallas; Katherine Monnig, Mary Louise Veach, Ft. Worth; Billie Morelock, Alpine; Josephine Nash, Kauffman; Jane Sampson, Chicago; Ellen Newby, La Rue Simmons, Jean Hunter, Wichita Falls; Miriam Smith, Temple; Mary Tonkin, Denison; Dorothy Webb, Morris John Honacker, Vernon; Virginia Williams, Gilmer.

Alpha Theta welcomes back Elizabeth Hinds from Wichita Falls and Alice Smith from Crockett.

We have two transfers this year: Winifred Kennedy, Beta Delta; and Virginia Fryor, Beta Sigma. Mary Neill McClung and Louise Jester, transfers from Beta Sigma last year, returned here this year.

Hazel Stebbins, Rho, helped us immeasurably during rush week. We are all anxious for another of her visits.

Katherine Kirk, president last year, returned to be tutor and scholarship adviser.

We regret Mary Elaine Anderson's absence. Mona Hornberger has taken her place as president of Alpha Theta.

ISABEL COLEMAN

1 October 1934

Married: Mary Bryant to W. E. Knickerbocker. 2127 Bissonnet, Houston, Tex.—Lucille Stover to Howard Price Nichols, June 12. 626 S. Kennedy av. Tyler, Tex.—Dorothy Baker to Sidney Mills-paugh. Ozono, Tex.

New addresses: Frances Landrum, Box 112, Austin, Tex.—Sarah Ewart Hill (Mrs Sam B.) Beeville, Tex.

ALPHA IOTA Washington (St. Louis)

September 27
Alpha Iota pledged Jo Ann Billman, Margaret Cave, Elizabeth Chapman, Jane Chivvis (daughter of Anne Cushing Chivvis) Mary Louise Conrades, Jane Ebling, Jane Faust, Grace Gale, Aurelia Gerhard, June Graves, Edith Hoffman, Elizabeth Johnston, Stella King, Elizabeth Lashley, Ruth Lothrop, June Pentland, Margery Skinner, Emily Turman, Martha Willert (sister of Betty). These are nineteen fine girls and we'll take great pride in introducing them to the campus at our pledge dance October 20.

Thetas received many honors last spring. Margaret Cornwell, Helen Mardorf, and Mary Ellen Chivvis, were chosen for Freshman commission, made up of the fifteen most outstanding freshmen. Margaret was elected president, and, as a result, is one of the two sophomore members of W.S.G.A. Kate D'Arcy was elected vice-president of W.A.A. and secretary of W.S.G.A. Elizabeth Cheney was chosen secretary of Thyrsus, dramatic group. Margaret Cornwell was elected assistant hockey manager, and Mary Ellen Chivvis, assistant swimming manager.

Helen Mardorf made Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman scholastic society. Sophia Fox was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Virginia Hawkins received sophomore honors and Edmonia Beal and Sophia Fox final honors.

KATE D'ARCY

28 September 1934

Married: Mary Agnes Hawkins to Lester McConnell Abbott. 29 Ridgemoor dr. Clayton, Mo.—Isabelle Kingsland Bonsack to Jules Desloge Campbell. 6675 Washington av. New addresses: Elizabeth Harvey, 3513 Rodman st. N.W. Washington, D.C.—Mary Virginia Harris, Crystal City Public School, Crystal City, Mo.

ALPHA KAPPA Adelphi

To glance back at the closing months of last year. Sophomore show was presented and Helen McKeon and Helen Lucas certainly did well in their parts.

Some Thetas took part in the activities of Field Day May 16, and others joined them at the banquet later. Mildred Wohnsiedler and Ruth Schlobohm were in the archery contest, while Isabelle Beinert was in the swimming contest. Sarah Oatts and Helen McKeon were in the riding exhibition, which Helen won.

We were sorry to see Jane Manley, Lois Regelmann, Mary Sanders, and Mildred Wohnsiedler leave us on Commencement day. All have entered business schools.

Helen McKeon was a member of the Junior-freshman luncheon, and is chairman of the Newman club tea. Helen Lucas is chairman of the Book exchange, of which Ruth Schlobohm is a member. Annette Riordan was elected vice-president of the sophomore class. Our president, Geraldine Mason, is also president of the History guild. Isabelle Beinert is the secretary of the Athletic association, member of the business board of the college year-book and of the Social arrangements committee. Ruth Schlobohm is chairman of the Welcoming committee, and of the Freshman-sophomore tea.

New plans for rushing are being tried by Panhellenic. Formal rushing shall be for three weeks. During that time Panhellenic will have a tea, and each fraternity will have several teas and a formal party. We hope this plan proves satisfactory.

RUTH SCHLOBOHM

26 September 1934

Married: April 5, Hildegard Schlobohm to Arthur Wessel, Σ Δ X, Columbia. 2291 Loring pl. Bronxville, N.Y.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Frank Kiendl (Olive Books) a son.

New addresses: Bisbee Nelson (Mrs Edwin W.) 15 Westminster rd. Brooklyn, N.Y.—Clarissa Pettit Edson (Mrs Marmont) Shelter Island Heights, Suffolk county, N.Y.

ALPHA LAMBDA Washington

Mary Hemphill has been made a member of Phi Beta Kappa. She deserves more, for she was president of Associated women students and active in other affairs. Along with Mary we miss our other last-year seniors.

Alpha Lambda rates fourth highest, almost a "B," on the scholarship list for 1933-34. Much credit is due the six girls who made straight "A" spring quarter. Jean Vermilya and Dorothy Hemphill are members of Sigma Epsilon Sigma, underclassman's scholastic group.

Friday, October 5, Jean Vermilya was awarded President Sieg's medal for having the highest scholarship of anyone during freshman and sophomore years.

Mortar board has elected Frances Hines, A.W.S. activity woman; Ruth Nieding, Panhellenic president; and Mary Margaret Quigley, Y.W.C.A. vice-president. Charlotte Fitton, Beth Fitton, and Dorothy Hemphill are new Washington Key members, organization which was formerly Spurs.

We are glad to have Louise Burr, Alpha Sigma, as a house resident.

Pledged under the guidance of Kay Turner, rushing chairman: Maribel Burdon, Betty Clawson, Medereis Coburn, Betty Davis, Patricia Hergert, Helen Kreitle, Virginia Lunn, Jean McDonald (daughter of Betty Belmont McDonald) Helen Melton, Olive Moore, Katharine Robbins (sister of Jane and Barbara) Jean Ross, Elizabeth Wallace, and Virginia Weiner, Seattle; Sally Bonner, Lewiston, Idaho; Maxine Casey, Janet Chapin, Margaret Rawson, and Suzanne Williams, Spokane; Peggy Guilmet, Portland, Oregon; Mary Hoover (daughter of Gladys Street Hoover), Olympia; Betty McGhie, Everett; Dorthe Mount, Waitsburg; Sally Paige and Patricia Roberg (sister of Jane), Bellingham; Helen Siepman, Yakima; and Eleanor White (daughter of Nellie Mae Dunlap White, charter member) Tacoma.

The entire upstairs interior of the house has been painted. The Mothers' club gift of a modern stove has been installed. The house is over-flowing with girls. But, something is missing; Jeanne Burnaby, who left us for Beta Delta. Hello, Jeanne—Come back soon!

BETTY McLAUHLAN

27 September 1934

Dorothy Evans returned during the summer from New York City where she had been studying social service. She has a position as zone supervisor with the Washington Emergency relief administration in Snohomish co.

Mary Hemphill has a position with Frederick & Nelson.

Marjorie Charnley Lindsay is doing advertising work in Tacoma.

The following Thetas visited in Seattle this summer: Adelaide Fairbanks Ellsworth (Mrs Paul), Daphne Todd Norton (Mrs Ted), Vera Allen Houser (Mrs Harold A.), Anna Adams Nott, and Dorothy Willard Bowman (Mrs Chas).

Engaged: Florence McRae to Herbert Winn, K Σ.

Married: Constance Castle to Lieut. Robert I. Fravel, May 3.—Margaret Philbrick to William Joiner, June 18.—Virginia Kellogg to Warren Slemmons, July 3. 1916 G st. Maurine Moore, Trenton; Martha Mae Morton, Hannibal; Sybil Powell, Rolla; Joan Jones, Chanute, Kansas; Alice Moore, Chilli-cothe; Emily Warren, Paris, Tennessee; Marion Case, Chicago, Illinois; Jane Ault Le Compte, Jefferson City; Sally Bancroft, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Before college closed last spring three Thetas received outstanding honors. Mary Virginia Edmiston was elected to Mortar board. Phyllis Brooks was chosen one of the five yearbook beauty queens. Dorothy McNab was crowned Goddess of agriculture by Lawrence Tibbett.

May 18 and 19 the annual R.O.T.C. horseshow was held. When it was over a new trophy had been gained by the Thetas. We won over Pi Beta Phi, who had held honors for several years, by one point, due mainly to the skill of Rose Nelson, Helen Biggs, and Mary McDonald.

This fall Rose Nelson was elected to Junior-senior service. Helen Mae Bean, Genevieve Byrne and Sara Virginia Rash are on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet and Helen Mae is also on Junior league cabinet.

We have a new chaperon, Mrs George Schrader of St. Louis. September 30 we entertained with a tea to introduce her to Columbia society.

September 23 we introduced our freshmen to the men of the campus at an open house. Our first party will be October 27 at the chapter house.

We are happy to have Virginia Henwood, Alpha Iota, and Dorothy Johnson, Beta Delta, as transfers this year.

ALPHA NU Montana

Alpha Nu regrets the loss through graduation of: Phoebe Patterson, Florence Harrington, Ruth Wallace, Martha Phyllis Busey, Elinor Marlowe, Marabeth MacKenzie, Grace Johnson, Mary Breen. Florence Harrington, Elinor Marlowe, and Phoebe Patterson graduated with honors. Jean Evans did not return. She is in training to be a nurse in Salt Lake City, Utah. Janice Koppe has transferred to Carleton.

April 8, Alpha Nu initiated Nan Divel, Catherine Breen, Helen Stewart, Clara Max Struble, Alma Phelan, Jo Marsh.

At the Junior Prom, Ruth Wallace was crowned queen. Junior Prom queen is chosen by the senior men. Martha Phyllis Busey was one of her attendants. Phoebe Patterson was an attendant to the May Queen.

The Elizabeth Kilroy Memorial prize, a lovely set of book-ends, was awarded to Helen Stewart, for the highest achievement in scholarship in the pledge group.

Margaret Breen was elected secretary of the senior class; Virginia Bode, secretary of Associated students, and vice-president of Women's athletic association.

May 29, Alpha Nu entertained in Theta homes with a formal progressive dinner party for college members and rushees. Dinner was followed by dancing at the country club.

Willie Clary, president of Panhellenic, and Margaret Breen were tapped Mortar board at the annual Track meet Singing on the steps. Tanan of Spur tapped Jean Evans and Catherine Flynn. Virginia Bode is president of Spur.

The Mothers' day tea was given by the chapter for Theta mothers and town rushees.

We opened the house September 23, and were thrilled to find the house made doubly attractive by freshly waxed floors, a new upstairs study, new curtains, and beautifully upholstered davenport and chairs in the sun room and study.

September 30, Alpha Nu pledged twenty girls: June Blankenhorn (daughter of Gladys Jones Blankenhorn, Alpha Lambda) Genevieve Clary (sister of Willie) Jane Prentice (sister of Betty) Virginia Flanagan, Great Falls; Jean Paul, Gladys Staffenson, Deer Lodge; Iris Fear, Margaret Lundeen, Poplar; Rosemary O'Brien, Peggy Davis, Frankie Davenport (sister of Mary Louise and Alice) Butte; Margaret Carpenter (sister of Alice) Billings; Joan Giacobazzi, Klein; Helen Purdy, Havre; Maude Teagarden, Shelby; Elizabeth Weber, Livingston; Bettie Hazen, Helen Norris, Joye Johnson (sister of Edna) Virginia Lucy, Missoula.

Pearl Johnson was elected secretary of Associated Women Students.

ALPHA OMICRON Oklahoma

Alpha Omicron closed an excellent rushing season

September 13 with the pledging of twenty-six girls. After a gay program of parties, the luncheon at the chapter house with all the "ribbon-putting-on" was a delightful climax. The pledges are Helen Johnson (daughter of Froma Johnson) Newkirk; Virginia Berry (sister of Nell Marie Berry) Oklahoma City; Louise Hutto (sister of Helen Hutto) Norman; Peggy Lamb (sister of Rosemary Lamb); Margaret Bailey (sister of Virginia Bailey) Frances Phelps (sister of Madge Phelps Davis) all of Oklahoma City; Sue Nell Nesbitt (sister of Ruth Nesbitt) Miami; Mary Milam (sister of Mildred Milam) Chelsea; Jean Braniff, Ruth Eleanor Grimes, Betty Lou Westfall, Julia Boardman, Hallie Jean Smythe, Estelle Thurman, all of Oklahoma City; Virginia Hudson, Enid; Sara Ann Fox, El Reno; Elizabeth McSpadden, Nowata; Helen Brydia, Pontiac, Illinois; Joan Johnson, Mangum; Louise Hill, Harlingen, Texas; Mary Adeline Wilson, Shawnee; Pamela Mott, Tulsa; Patty Doyle, Wewoka; Virginia Ambrose, Blackwell, Jane Willour, McAlester; Barbara Hiestand, Tulsa.

September 30 Alpha Omicron presented the pledges at open house. Miss Wilson, new hostess, and the officers headed the receiving line. Members of the alumnae club assisted at the tea table. The Boomers, college orchestra played.

Affiliation service was held September 27 for Rosalie Pillet, Beta Sigma. Alice Rhea, Alpha Theta, has transferred here, too.

The chapter is proud of a new scholarship undertaking. Margaret Linbaugh, Muskogee, who graduated last year, has returned to enroll in a few courses and be the official tutor for the chapter. Since this method of study hall and scholarship discipline has proved successful for other chapters Alpha Omicron is expecting admirable results.

ALPHA PI North Dakota

In spring elections Edith Countryman became a member of Mortar board, archon of Zeta Phi Eta, and acted as a Grey gown at Commencement. Mary Comings was voted the most outstanding senior girl in Commerce.

The annual senior breakfast was at the F. C. Massee home in honor of Mary Comings, Eileen Benson, Winifred Blair, Jean Chapple, Helen Oftedal, Jessie Campbell, Mary Margaret French, and Dorothy Sim. The girls were presented with crested spoons and napkin rings by the Mother's club.

With Margaret Thompson as rush captain we pledged Eleanor Vold and Ellen Bek, Grand Forks; Henrietta Grimsgard and Thelma Nielsen, Rugby; Eleanor Thompson, Minot; Anita Mary Hage, Crookston; Blanche Gans (sister of Mary Anne) St. Cloud, Minnesota; Mary Chapple (sister of Jean) Bathgate; Ruth Aageson, Leeds; Marion Wagness, Lakota; Betty Berg, Grenora; and Eloise Johnson, Williston.

September 23 we initiated Dorothea Sitz, Cando; Jean Pratt, Sioux Falls, South Dakota; Margaret Alexander, St. Vincent, Minnesota; Verneil Axtell, Michigan; and Helen Kjeldmyr, Leeds. A formal banquet in their honor was given September 24 at the chapter house.

The chapter was delighted with the toastmaster sandwich tray and small plants presented by Charlotte Gowran Hills (Mrs Howard F.) during rush week.

Alpha Rho, with an average of 85.21%, won the Slagle cup for women's scholastic superiority for the ninth year in the twelve times that award has been presented.

September 21, Alpha Rho pledged Shirley Reynolds (sister of Winifred) Dell Rapids; Mary Dunlap (sister of Anne Dunlap Maier, Lenette Dunlap Kramer, and Lelia Dunlap Zoost) Helen Anderson, Florence Lee, all of Vermilion; Mary Dalton, Watertown; Iris Doherty, Rapid City; Helen Ferrier, Pasadena, California; Helenstar Hart, Onida; Alta Maple, Belle Fourche; Vivian Murphy, Aberdeen; Norma Rapalee, Yankton; Elizabeth Adams, Margaret Claus, June Jacobson, Mary Jane McCown, Charlotte Parker, all of Sioux Falls.

Rosalind Whittemore was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and awarded a fellowship at Washington university, St. Louis, Missouri.

Three Thetas graduated cum laude: Rosalind Whittemore, Betty Payne, Wanda McLaughlin.

Marjorie Burns was chosen president of Alpha Chi Alpha, national journalistic group; she will be editor of Wet hen, campus humor magazine. Marian Quirk is president of W.S.G.A. and of Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic organization. Dorothy Early has been elected secretary of a sociology club founded on campus this year. Betty Royhl is vice-president of Apprentice players, test organization for Playcrafters, dramatic club. Catharine Martens, as vice-president of Playcrafters, presides over Apprentice players. Ruth Wood, Marjorie Burns, and Wanda McLaughlin, seniors, were among the seven girls chosen for Mortar board: Ruth is the new president, Marjorie, historian, and Wanda, secretary.

Catharine Martens, Arlowene Bowles, and Margaret Schlosser were elected to Guidon, national auxiliary to Scabbard and blade. Wanda McLaughlin is president of Mu Phi Epsilon, being its delegate to the national convention in June at Atlantic City. Members of Alpha Rho in the A cappella choir are Mary Jane McCown, Dorothy Hartman, and Margaret Claus.

Ruth Wood and Esther Dunn took part in the summer school play, the Successful calamity. At the pledge banquet Arlowene Bowles presented to Margaret Rempfer the Freshman scholarship cup.

Mrs Corine Alrich of Sioux Falls is Alpha Rho's house mother. The chapter, aided by alumnae, has redecorated the chapter house and purchased some early American furniture for the living-room.

ALPHA TAU Cincinnati

Now that rushing is over, we have settled down to normal lives once again.

The whole campus points with pride to our pledge class—which may or may not mean something. We do feel guilty, though, for having taken nineteen girls, any one of which would have made another fraternity swell with pride. The pledges are: Doris Haffner (sister of Marian) Dorothy Japp (sister of Opal) Betsy Miller (sister of Ann) Eve Bigler, Kay Brown, Jane Brutton, Jane Dillencourt, Eileen Fry, Kay Ferson, Verna Hunter, Adelaide Kern, Caryl Peters, Virginia Price, Betty Schwarberg, Martha Stitt, Ann Thompson, Elizabeth Tomlin, and Virginia Winston. Betty Lou VanZant is to be pledged as soon as technicalities in the dean's office can be cleared concerning an F.E.R.A. position she secured several weeks before pledging.

Rushing was so different from other years that it might interest you who are having troubles. It was confined to two weeks—the second week, campus rushing. Since we don't live in dorms or houses, that second week was a little harder. Hours for the first week were 8:30 to 11:00; for the second, 8:30 to 5:30. No communication was allowed at other hours. Each fraternity was allowed just $50 for all the parties, but this did not include food or entertainment for the actives. With this limitation, girls were more impressed by the personality and ingenuity of the rushing girls than by the elaborate displays of money. We had three big parties: a formal tea, a slumming party, and the traditional World Tour ending at Theta Land. The slumming party started at the Bowery which was one of the girl's garage and terrace strewn and decorated with clever sketches of Bowery characters. The tables were covered with brightly checked cloths, and lighted by candles stuck in beer bottles. Root beer and potato chips were served from the bar. From here they went to a Chinese dope den where they sat on piles of pillows in a smoke-filled room and ate chow-mein. While they were being entertained, four policemen broke in and raided the place. They paid no attention to the pleas of its only being a party in fun but took all the girls to the university Law college court room where they were entertained by a mock trial. The tour was a progressive four-course dinner with each course in a different country. Theta Land was in a florist's shop. After several serenades we had a candle-light service and sang "There's Nothing Quite So Loyal." Between these parties, we had luncheon dates with the girls, where the rush girl has to pay for her own meal. At first we thought that this form of rushing would be unsatisfactory, but you can see by our results that the time we put into it was well spent.

Pledge services were at Marion Haffner's home again. Afterwards, we went to the Gibson hotel for the banquet. We all stayed around the tables, which were in the shape of a kite, and sang and called on various talented members for short contributions.

Here's some news for you people who have never heard of the University of Cincinnati. Seven of our pledges either went to eastern colleges last year or just moved here from some other city. We also received three transfers: Virginia Brulheid, Upsilon, Mary Alice Mahon, Beta Tau, and Ann Miller, Beta Xi. Thank you three for making them Thetas for us.

BETTY GUSTETTER

1 October 1934

Married: Sallie Hannaford Harkness to Donald L. Crone. 3970 Marburg, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Richard F. Bauer (Ruth Cunningham) a daughter, Jean Gale, Apr. 8. 367 Questend av. Pittsburgh, Pa.

New address: Mrs F. W. Gano, 7 Bivouac pl. Fort Thomas, Ky.

ALPHA UPSILON Washburn

We were agreeably surprised when we returned September 7, and found the sun-room refurnished with Early American maple furniture.

Rush began September 8, with the traditional Alpha Upsilon formal wedding dinner. The ceremony of uniting Ima Rushee to Kappa Alpha Theta was performed before an altar decorated with flowers and tall candles. The rushing season closed September 10, with the Honolulu dinner. We pledged Helene Hawkins, Herington; Margaret Coleman, Junction City; Ruth Parry, Mary Hogaboon, Virginia Henry (sister of Helen) Virginia Brown, Valery Whitcombe, Betty Hammel, Jane Harper, Jane Clark, Mary Simpson, Patty Shoaf, Annabelle Putney, Barbara King, all of Topeka. Pledges will be entertained at a dinner given by their fraternity mothers October 20.

Graduates of last spring are: Mary Jane Jones, Madeling Daniel, Patricia Stewart, Peggy Strawn, Virginia Crosby, Marian Rhoades, and Carol Montgomery. Undergraduates attending other colleges are, Mary K. James, State teacher's college at Pittsburg; Margaret Johnston and Margaret Woods, University of Iowa; Mary Grace Linscott and Gladys Fawcett, Kansas university; Katherine Swan, University of California at Los Angeles; Rebekah Anne Salisbury, Stanford.

The scholarship ring is worn this year by Ruth Walker.

MARGARET KINKEAD

13 October 1934

Engaged: Lucie Gibbs to William Vernon.

Married: Edna Mary Brenn to Gordon N. Jones, June 10. 3205 E. 13th st. Wichita, Kan.—Sophie Knowles to Kent Snare. 1404 N. 4th st. Sayre, Okla.—Edith Winifred Kerr to Robert F. Fee, March 17. El Dorado, Kan.

New addresses: Betty Higdon, 409 S. Fountain, Wichita, Kan.—Constance Bone Jackson (Mrs Richard C.) 71 Daley blvd. Rochester, N.Y.—Eleanor Cooke, 316 Kendall st. Topeka, Kan.—Sarah Ewart Hill (Mrs Sam B.) Beeville, Tex.—Elizabeth Newby Greer (Mrs Richard H.) 944 Alabama, Lawrence, Kan.

ALPHA PHI Newcomb

Graduation took nine of our finest girls. The chapter seems small, but our numbers will be replenished by fall initiations. Newcomb has instituted a new rushing plan, which abolishes all rushing till the Thanksgiving holidays.

Convention was more than enjoyed by our delegate, Connie Meyer, and by the other representatives from Newcomb. They brought back many interesting stories and also much instructive information. We were proud that Martha Robertson and Jane Taylor were among the convention initiates. One of the pleasantest events associated with convention was the entertaining of the delegates who stopped off in New Orleans on their way to Ashville. A supper for them was given at the beautiful colonial home of Hutton Laurans Wattle, following which there was the gay conviviality of singing and conversation. Those of us who do not live in New Orleans were sorry to have missed it.

We regret that Morna Dusenberry, leaving for art school in New York, will not be with us this winter. Juanita Heiss, graduate of a year ago, has been visiting here. We also learn that Louise Ricks, last summer's graduate, is to head the art department of Baylor university at Waco, Texas. This is quite an honor and we are proud of her.

College is just getting under way at Newcomb, so nothing of note has taken place yet. Our plans embody a strenuous scholarship campaign, attention to alumna-student relations, and the creation of greater interest in activities.

DORIS D. DAVIS

25 September 1934

Married: Virginia Jarmon to William Shewan Slaughter, Sept. 12.

New addresses: Sara Mastin, Room 202, 1111 Grand av. Kansas City, Mo.—Nellie Britton Jackson (Mrs Albert Clay) 717 Short st. New Orleans, La.

ALPHA CHI Purdue

Preference breakfasts were inaugurated on campus to take the place of the usual last night rush dinner, consequently rush ended the morning of September 6 with the customary Trip to Theta Land. Under the capable leadership of our rush chairman, Anna Margaret Ross, we pledged Jane Cook, Doris De Hority, Frances Ford, Joan Hall, Kathryn Hilton, Dorothy Martinet, Mary Alice Masters, Alice Parlon, Elizabeth Pyke, Frances Ross, Virginia Sidwell, Betty Simpson, Frances Shelby, Shirley Shepard, Eugenia Weber (sister of Helen) and Mary Elizabeth Wynn. Mary Friend was pledged late last spring. An informal dance honored the pledges September 28 at the chapter house.

Theta ranks third on campus in scholarship, and claims nine distinguished students: Mary Ann Miller, Alice Mary Lehman, Dorothy Reynolds, Jane Wright, Lucia Miller, Lura Sherry, Katherine Hazard, Virginia Gobble, and Virginia Arter.

Jean Adkins was elected to student senate as sophomore representative of the school of home economics. Mary Emily Decker was queen of the Junior Prom. Anna Margaret Ross is president of Panhellenic. Phoebe Romberger is vice-president of Y.W.C.A. and Jane McCoy chairman of its social committee. Elizabeth Meisinger is in charge of the annual May Day pageant. Omicron Nu has for secretary Virginia Arter, also a member of W.S.G.A. executive and judicial boards. Mary Esther Converse is secretary of Student senate and member of W.S.G.A. Judicial board. All social activities of W.S.G.A. are in charge of Helen Hall, as chairman of that committee. Mary Jane O'Mara is manager of Girls glee club. Margaret Stradling was elected one of the assistant co-ed editors of Exponent, the university daily, and was sent as a delegate of the Virginia C. Meredith club to the national convention of the American Home economics association.

A beautiful new residence hall for women is an outstanding improvement on campus. It houses a majority of the freshman women, and a number of upperclass women.

We are happy to welcome three transfer Thetas: Ruth Christophersen, Alpha Psi, Janet Calvin, Gamma deuteron, and Barbara Harrison, Alpha.

MARGARET STRADLING

28 September 1934

Martha Allen is student dietitian in the Vanderbilt hospital at Nashville, Tenn.—Alice Mary Lehman is teaching in the public schools at Salem, Ind.—Mary Ann Miller is laboratory technician in the Methodist hospital at Indianapolis, Ind.—Miriam Moore is assistant to the food director of the Purdue memorial union building.—Dorothy Reynolds is studying at Chicago university, where she was awarded a scholarship.—Jane Shearer is secretary at Cary hall, residence dormitory for men at Purdue university.—Jane Wright is assistant dietitian in the women's residence hall at Ohio Wesleyan university.

ALPHA PSI Lawrence

Our rushing parties were perfect successes, the best we've ever had: a dancing party at Bergstrom's; tea at Wettengel's; a progressive dinner with stops at Beals', Hearthstone, and Jennings; Plantation dinner at Mrs. Boyd's cottage—with a full moon on the Fox and little butterscotch pies; and preference banquet at the Valley inn. Now probably to larger colleges the number of our pledges is not so extra special, but we're just thrilled, because at Lawrence an average class is one of ten girls, and this afternoon, September 28, at the home of Monica Cooney, we pledged twenty-eight girls! Mrs Banta, who has been with us all during rushing, gave the pre-pledging talk.

The pledges are—Jean Burgess, Jane and Marianne MacRae, Margaret Seip, Ruth Chapelle, Jane Wood, Polly Smiley, Joan Steele, Virginia Hammill, Lola Mae Zuelhke, Rosemary Karnopp, Beth Dawley, Ellen Sweet, Joyce McBride, Laura Thickens (daughter of Jean Thickens) Helen Peters, Beth McAllister, Jean De Baufer, Jeanne Meyer (sister of Marge) Jane Smith, Beverly Duncan, Sally Haven, Marian Humleker, Jean Steffen, Helen Wingrove, Helen Morgan, Jeanne Rasey, Annette Rockwell.

And now about last spring—Jean Schram, senior, was elected May Queen. She was a Freshman counsellor, and elected one of the Best-loved at the Colonial banquet in February. Jane Taylor and Betsy Ashe were appointed Freshman counsellors.

Graduation deprived us of Jean Shannon, Monica Cooney, Janet Gillingham, Betty Sacia, Kathleen Stewart, Orlene Wettengel, and Lois Eysenbach. Other losses, by foul means or transfer, are Sue Beals, Janet White, Mary Brooks, Ruth and Mary Jane Christophersen, Dorothy Brown, Jane Gauslin, Florence Goddard, Mary Eleanor Wright, and Nancy Kimberly.

The college has just made a new ruling, allowing conservatory girls to join social fraternities. We haven't done anything about it yet, but one never knows.

BETSY ASHE

ALPHA OMEGA Pittsburgh

We moved April 7, and are now living in our new house at 200

Bellefield avenue. April 23 we entertained all fraternity women on campus at a tea.

April 28 Bettie Anderson, Nancy Arnold, Mary Alice Bast, Virginia Boyd, Frances Calhoun, Dorothy Crock, Mary Lou Dowling, Helen Goodman, Patsy Graff, Dorothy Holbrook, and Eleanor Milliken were initiated.

At our formal reception May 19, we entertained some 500 people; families, friends and faculty members. The alumnae were in charge. Senior luncheon was given June 4 at which senior members received pencil holders as farewell gifts. In the evening they were entertained with a dance. Those graduated—Marjorie Bernatz, Eleanor Brankstone, Carolyn Erb, Ruth Feucht, Natalie Hagan, Mary Madden, Jane Mauzey, Lenore Miller, and Mary Jane Prichard.

Lois Milliken is vice-president of Panhellenic, member of senior court and national secretary-treasurer of Urban Panhellenic. Sally Sanderson is on senior cabinet. Margaret Lewis is W.S.G.A. representative of junior class. Mary Lou Dowling is W.S.G.A. representative of sophomore class. Virginia Boyd is secretary of W.A.A. Maxine Christensen is member of College association cabinet. Alice Rosenberger is secretary of senior class. On W.S.G.A. commission are Janet Slease, chairman of student loans, Sally Pinkerton, chairman of the activities committee, and Alice Rosenberger, chairman of organizations. Senior mentors include Sally Pinkerton, Maxine Christensen, Helen Hoeveler, Alice Rosenberger, and Janet Slease.

On last year's honor roll were: Jane Mauzey, high honor; honor, Lois Milliken, Helen Goodman, Bettie Anderson, Sally Pinkerton, Patsy Graff, Martha Cameron, Vivian Lewis, Janet Slease, Mary Alice Bast.

Lois Milliken and Sally Sanderson were elected to Mortar board. Members in Cwens are Virginia Boyd, Mary Lou Dowling, and Dorothy Holbrook. In clubs are Patsy Graff, Quill club; Vivian Lewis, Phi Alpha Theta; and Lois Milliken, Pi Tau Phi.

Jean Charters, Mu, has been affiliated. Three other members of Mu, Lyda Baltz, Ruth Black, and Evelyn Jones have entered Pitt.

BETA BETA Randolph-Macon

September 29, we pledged eighteen freshmen and two sophomores: Eleanor Robinson, Peekskill, New York; Pat Byers (sister of Margaret) Fremont, Nebraska; Martha Akin, Louisville, Kentucky; Charlotte Ames, Lynnbroom, New York; Lorene Baker, Colorado Springs, Colorado; Jane Bruce, Scottsville, Virginia; Mary Elizabeth Cassin, Lorraine Thrift, San Antonio, Texas; Maxine Dennis, Shelby, Ohio; Gretchen Hauser, Mobile, Alabama; Marie Hedgepeth, Greensboro, North Carolina; Virginia Iglehart, Evansville, Indiana; Lorraine Lemmon and Martha Ann Smith, St. Louis, Missouri; Margaret Milliken, Elaine Parks, and Dorothy Wagner, Dallas, Texas; Dorothy Rolston, Linville, Virginia; Mary Jane Schiltz, Canton, Ohio.

Rushing began September 23 with open house. This was followed by two teas, costume and formal, arranged by Josephine Marchman. The costume tea—a nine year old tradition in the chapter—is a take-off on "Old Joe's Bar room." The freshmen seemed to enjoy it more than our formal affairs.

Louise Mallory, president last year, was Maid of Honor in May Court last spring, and was in the feature section of Helianthus, college annual. Helen Gauger was also in May Court.

Freshmen were impressed in Panhellenic meetings by Barbara Laylin, Panhellenic president and an active Beta Beta. Barbara is also president of the debating council, art editor of Helianthus, and art editor of Old maid, college humor magazine.

Our chapter president, Myra Phillips, is athletic representative of senior class, a member of Y.W.C.A. cabinet, and literary editor of Old maid. She was a training group leader during Orientation week for freshmen.

We keenly miss the eleven girls whom we lost last June. Louise Mallory and Annie Bess McKenzie graduated. Helen Gauger is at her home in Sullivan, Illinois. Nan Ashton Glenn, who had been appointed literary editor of Tattler, the literary monthly, is studying archeology in the University of New Mexico. Jean and Joan Davies have transferred to the University of Nebraska, Sue Butt to Sophie Newcomb, Ann Fairleigh to William and Mary, and Bettie Taylor to Smith college. Gardner Anderson's father has been transferred to the Philippine Islands, and Gardner is living there with her family.

VIRGINIA JOHNSON

30 September 1934

Married: Louise Mallory to Stuart McLean jr.

New addresses: Martha Harlan, St. Louis Maternity hospital, 4907 W. Pine, St. Louis, Mo.—Kathleen Butt Black (Mrs Farnsworth) 1058 Peabody av. apt. 15, Memphis, Tenn.—Margaret Ewing Walker (Mrs W. S.) 24 Gilchrist rd. Great Neck, N.Y.—Mary Anne Hall Anderson (Mrs W. M.) 207 N. Townsend st. apt. No. 7, Syracuse, N.Y.

Beta Gamma closed a successful rush season
BETA GAMMA
Colorado State by pledging Natalie Bullard, Frances Woodside, Jeannette Nicholas, Jane Stow, Amy Avery, and Dorothy Link of Fort Collins; Lillian Anderson, Peggy Rich, and Eleanora Johnson of Denver; Betty Monson, Steamboat Springs; Genevieve Smith, Eaton; Helen Harrington, Grand Junction; Caroline Sherman, Sagauche; Rena Lu Davidson, Pueblo; Lucille and Gladys Carlson, Longmont; Dorothy Weeland, Delta; and Katherine De May, McCook, Nebraska.

Three of these pledges received offices in the freshman class: Frances Woodside, vice-president; Eleanora Johnson, secretary; and Katherine De May, treasurer. Jane Stow was elected freshman representative to serve on Associated women students' council. Martha Trimble was elected to Euclidean club, honorary mathematics society. Lucille Oaks, Margaret Adams, Caroline Edwards, Louise Lallor, and Harriett Savage were elected to Spur.

We just initiated Marian Grover of Ovid, and Margaret Adams of Longmont.

The America, leading theater in Fort Collins, offered a living-room suite to the most popular woman's group on Colorado state college's campus to be decided by the vote of the college students. We were happy indeed when Kappa Alpha Theta was announced the winner.

BETA DELTA Arizona

A successful rush with Virginia Young as rush captain closed September 23 when we pledged Helen Bunnell, Bloomington, Illinois; Dorothy Hall, Demming, New Mexico; Alice Walker, Washington, D.C.; Marie Elizabeth Jones (sister of Eleanor) San Marino, California; Mary Lanza, New York City; Madge Munds (niece of Mary Frances Parsons) Kingman; Betsy Carson, Helena Wille, Phoenix; Clara D'Arcy (sister of Frances) Jerome; Helen Sheafe, Chicago, Illinois; Dorothy Braden, Indianapolis, Indiana; and Betsy Montgomery, Beverly Hills, California.

Last spring Lucy Todd was pledged to F.S.T. junior women's organization, and Betty Tuthill to Mortar board.

A carefully planned study schedule was arranged whereby pledges studied from two to four hours with actives in the day, in addition to study table at night. A distinct progress in grades was made, bringing us from seventh to first place in scholarship.

At the annual Desert dance April 14 the Queen and her maids of honor were announced. Charlotte Guy was chosen Queen, and Estill Thompson, one of her attendants.

Lucy Todd, who is active on campus, was selected Queen of last year's circus. The Thetas were awarded first prize for a float in the circus parade.

We are happy to have living with us Jeanne Burnaby, Alpha Lambda, and Mary Belle Atkinson, Delta.

BETA ETA Pennsylvania

Since college started late, Beta Eta has as yet done no rushing.

Our senior supper, June 18, was not a festive occasion, but we were comforted by the fact that the graduating girls will be around the house this year in the capacity of alumnae. Graduated June 20, Eleanor Campion, Ruth Openshaw, Elizabeth Rossiter, and Vaughnlea Fallow.

Ruth Atkinson and Mildred Travis were elected to Sphinx and Key, junior society. Vaughnlea Fallow was a candidate for May queen. Mary Reese, Agnes Murdock, Mildred Travis, and Ruth Atkinson all made Bowling Green, of which Elizabeth Townsend is the president. Mary Reese and Dorothy Hastings are in the Choral society and Edna Wetzel is on the Woman's athletic association council. Mildred Travis is on her class council, as is also Elizabeth Townsend. Ruth Atkinson is junior president, while Jean Francksen leads the sophomores. Elizabeth Townsend and Agnes Murdock are senior advisers for freshmen. Ruth Atkinson is on the C.A. cabinet.

The house has been painted, and we are trying out a new housekeeping system.

BETA KAPPA

Drake

September 17 our rush came to a successful close with the pledging of sixteen girls: Betty Cowles, Catherine Wennas, Erna Warren, Alice Yost, Mary Jo Corcoran, Mary Helen Bell, Virginia Cary, Lucille Pilmer (sister of Marjorie) Margaret Clemens, Lois Bumgardner and Jane Stewart, all of Des Moines; Eloise Marsh, Lehigh; Dorothy Born, Mishawaka; Indiana; Eleanor Wilcox, Mason City; Maxine Merkle (sister of Donabelle) Ankeney; and Catherine Kruidenier, Jackson, Mississippi.

Beta Kappa will initiate in October Frances Wragg, Barbara Morken, Phyllis Kooker, Lois Demmon, Bonnie Williams, Betty Fields, Sue Simpson, Jane Cray, Virginia Shivers, Alice Cupps, Wilma Jean Prussia, Charlotte Parker, Alice Erickson, Winifred Caldwell, Juliette Pitts, and Florence Loffer.

For the thirteenth time in fourteen semesters, Theta has won the university scholarship award. Aside from this, four individual scholarship awards were won by Thetas. Charlotte Parker had the highest average in freshman class, and Lois Harris the highest in freshman Liberal arts class. Doris Mackaman led the sophomores, and Frances Morehouse was high in the junior class.

Charlotte Joiner and Kay Fry, who graduated in June, received general and outstanding class honors. Margaret Marshal, another June graduate, was elected to Who's who.

Seven girls from Beta Kappa attended the national convention. Two of our pledges, Lois Harris and Kay Watts, were initiated there. There we received another scholarship cup, this one for the highest scholarship on our campus for two years.

Three of the six beauties last year were Thetas, Lois Demmon, Frances Ewing, and Nadine Ingleman.

cast in the next all college play, You never can tell.

BETA LAMBDA William & Mary

Beta Lambda ended last year in a blaze of glory, in spite of being sorry to lose Jane Kemon, Anne Spratley, Janis Steel, and Winifred Cory, graduating.

Helen Singer won a Phi Beta Kappa key, Anne Spratley was in the May Court. Nelia Beverley represented William and Mary as a princess in the Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester, Virginia. Dorothy Toulon, our president, was elected vice-president of junior class. Sally Pevear was chosen secretary-treasurer of G.G.G. a branch of the German club, a cotillion club for girls, of which Helen Simpson is vice-president. Emily Winship, who did not return this year, was initiated into the national home economics society, Kappa Omicron Phi.

We opened our doors September 10, five days before classes began, in order to organize our rushing. Our house has been improved by the addition of two new bedrooms on third floor. We now have ample accommodations for nineteen girls. Rushing has not yet ended. Among alumnæ we have with us to assist are Miss Julia Dixon, our District president, and Mary Etheredge. Phyllis Logan Smoot, who has just returned from Honolulu, was a recent visitor at the house.

Ann Fairleigh, Beta Beta, has transferred to William and Mary, and is a welcome addition to our number. We miss Eunice Sewell who did not return, and Mary Morris Wright, who visited us recently, and is now attending George Washington university.

Ann Cummings has been elected to Delta Psi Kappa, national physical education society. Doris Campbell is on the Dean's list for last semester. Sally Dobbs has been appointed Sport editor of Flat bat. Jane Sunderland has been chosen to bully the poor freshmen as a member of sophomore tribunal.

Preferential bidding is being used here for the first time. In accordance with the local Panhellenic rules, we were entitled to entertain rushees twice. Our first affair was an open house, September 21, where we gave corsages of orange marigolds as favors. September 26 we had a small party which represented the opening of a new night club. The tables were covered with red and white checked cloths, while the only light was furnished by candles in bottles. As the guests arrived they were announced over a radio microphone, which added to local color. Throughout the evening a program of piano music, tap dancing, and singing was carried on, making a festive occasion.

DORIS CAMPBELL

Winifred Cory is teaching in Montclair, N.J.

Mary Taylor Withers is traveling in South America.

Anne Spratley has a position in a bank in Hampton, Va.

Jane Kemon has a government position in Washington, D.C.

BETA MU Nevada

Rushing season included Beta Mu's traditional wild west party, a fashion salon party, and an Old English tea. The preferential dinner at the Century club celebrated the pledging of Doris Bath, Aldene Branch, Peggy Gill, Beverly Joyce, Rosalys Martinez, Kathleen Meeks, Billy Morgan, Frances Nichols (sister of Katherine) Jean Smith, and Mary Barbara Woodburn, of Reno; Elizabeth Best, Lois Darrough, Ann Gibbs (sophomore) Laurada Jarvis, and Norma Jean Mills (sophomore) of Fallon; Emily Tholl of Sparks; and Suzanne Traub of Evanston, Illinois.

The chapter lost a large and valuable group through graduation: Elizabeth Carpenter, Florence Diskin, Ermyn Goodin, Theresa Jauregui, Margaret Martin, Jean McIntyre, Mary McCulloch, Patricia McCulloch, Gladys Morris, Margery Mullen, Margery Record, Katherine Slavin, Frances Smith, Virginia Wheeler, and Mary Williams.

Last spring's social activities included a formal dinner-dance at the Century club, and a picnic at Julia Sibley's Lake Tahoe home.

Sally Fagan is president and Katherine Dondero, secretary of Sagen, women's pep organization, of which Ellen Creek is a member also. Katherine Dondero is secretary of A.W.S. and Sally Fagan, chairman of women's upperclass committee. Helene Per Lee is vice-president and Helen Lewis, secretary of Campus players. Katherine Nichols is president of Home economics club, and is on Home-coming day committee. Cornelia Arentz is associate editor of Artemisia, year book. Virginia Murgotten is director of Fine Arts group.

The front room of the chapter house has been greatly improved by the addition of a new davenport and matching chair, and several new lamps.

Among members missed from the chapter roll are Paula Bradshaw, attending Vanderbilt University; Eleanor Garrison, at Dominican college; Margaret Copren, at the University of California; Madeleine O'Connell, at George Washington university; and Miriam Clark, attending Miss Gallagher's fashion art school in San Francisco.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Joe Leonard (Adele Clemmons) a son, Joseph Bradley Leonard, May 28.

BETA NU Florida

After three months of lazing in the sun and dancing in the moonlight it seemed hard for the twenty-two of us to get down to the difficulties of schedule-fixing, the routine of classes, and the rigours of Rush week, which started with a formal reception September 14. Our last rush date was a dinner at the house, September 19. It took the form of a cross-country tour, with a map of the United States indicating the route to be followed. The next afternoon we pledged Ann Chichester, Helen Donn, Dagmar Fripp, Jean Harris (sister of Eleanor) Mary Kimball (sister of Betty) Virginia Lide, Nedra McNamara, and Rachel Sherman, Miami; Anna Belle Baker and Madge Williams (sister of Claire) Jacksonville; Mamie Jane Clark, Perry; Kitty Craney and Margaret Schmidli, Orlando; Iris Machan, Gainesville; and Marjorie Horton, Ft. Pierce. We were aided in our rushing by Alice Hemmings Peacock (Mrs L. A.).

We have a big gap in our ranks. Virginia Lamb, Peggy Paradise, and Beatrice Monroe, are not back. Isabelle Orr graduated and had to her credit a Phi Kappa Phi key. She now has a government position in Washington, D.C. Virginia Baxley is our loss and Vanderbilt's gain, as she is a transfer there. Last year she was elected to Beta Pi Theta, National French society. Catherine Mitchell is at Auburn and Jean Osbourne at Southern California. Christine Armbruster is attending business school in Miami. Enid Wolfe is teaching at Miramar grammar school. Ruth Robie is convalescing from an automobile accident in which she suffered severe injuries. A more recent loss is Dallie Lewis, who due to illness, has just withdrawn from college.

Antoinette Sullivan is on the Flastacowo college annual staff. Claire Williams is a reporter for Flambeau, the weekly newspaper. Virginia Holt is president of Spirogira, Odd honorary, and vice-president of Home economics club. Mary Ann Hills is a member of Freshman commission.

We spent the week-end of October 5 at Flastacowo camp on Lake Bradford in an attempt to revive the last tinge of summer tan. The chapter had a grand time swimming, canoeing, and eating.

WYLMA TER BUSH

27 September 1934

Married: Emily Martin to G. Baxter Milam jr. 35 N.W. 6 av. Miami, Fla.

New address: Annie Mary Moore Butler (Mrs Wallace E.) 2118 Wright av. Greensboro, N.C.

BETI XI California at L.A.

After a tremendously successful rush season, we broke our former records by taking twenty-five pledges, all of them nuggets in the truest sense of the word. They are: Nancy Belle Bayly, Jane Bishop, Charlotte Bohr, Joan Bishop, Mary Cobb, Jane Cowles, Virginia Dunham, Pollyann Eastman, Sara Kirby, Barbara Everett, Virginia Higgins, Virginia Jacobberger, Martha Klipstein (sister of Peggy) Betty and Frances Lynn (who are twins) Florence Martindale, Jane Paris, Mary Rowell, Sidney Stalden, Lucille Thompson (cousin of Betty) Leone Wakefield, Rosemary Wallace, Alta Weiss, and Betty Wyatt. These girls will be presented to campus October 3.

Our president, Kitty Landon, is also president of Prytanean. Olivia Redwine has been admitted to Agathai. Martha Macomber is president of Pi Delta Phi, French society. Eleanor Dietrich and Janet Knox are Spurs, sophomore organization for the most outstanding girls in campus activities. Leone Wakefield, pledge, is also a Spur. Frances Blackman, vice-president of the junior class, and Eleanor Anton were taken by Tic-Toc, social group.

Virginia Roddick has transferred back from Stanford. Mary Grigsby, Omicron; Katherine Swan, Alpha Upsilon; Rachel Richmond, Beta Theta; Maribel Poer, Beta Omega; Jean Osborn, Beta Nu; Margaret Slauser, Alpha Rho; and Mary Jane Klippinger, Alpha, are all studying here. Adele Zerweck, our capable rush chairman last semester, is back for graduate work. Two young brides, Gwen-Laurie Macdonald Smits and Jean Powell Bailey, are also registered again.

The house is overflowing with old and new members and resembles a Y.W.C.A. club during lunch hour on a busy day. Where we will put the thirty-three who are living in the house, is indeed a debatable question.

KATE VOSBURG

24 September 1934

Mr and Mrs A. C. Pratt and their two daughters enjoyed a trip to Yellowstone Park during the summer.

BETA RHO Duke

June 2 we initiated Eleanor Mitchell, Washington, D.C., Dorothy Leach, New York City, and Shirley Teed, Brooklyn, New York.

We lost through graduation: Elaine Childs, Katherine Fleming, Josephine Glass, Caroline MacIntosh, Catherine Powe, and Susan Sheppard.

Undergraduates who have not returned are Virginia Hardin, pursuing her studies in France, Jean Wallauer, taking a business course at Gaines school in New York, and Dorothy Leach, studying at Trinity university.

We welcome Dorothy Brown, Alpha Psi, who transferred here from Lawrence.

Beta Rho won honors at convention for the highest average in 1932-33, also for the largest delegation. Although Theta stepped back to third place in the 1933-34 scholastic average of campus, the members hope to regain first position in the spring.

September 22 the chapter entertained, under the new rushing system, at a tea for all new girls on the campus. Then concluded the month's activities by initiating Sarah Williams of Elizabeth City, September 26.

Thetas who made honor list spring term are Jane Carlton, Alma Hedrich, Sarah Thompson, Jane Haislip, Ethel White, Jane Williams, Georgiana Lamson, Mary Alice Rhodes, Mary Louise Bradley, and Segrid Pederson.

Thetas who are active in publications are: Jane Williams, society editor of Chronicle, and Jane Carlton, feature editor of Chanticleer.

BETA TAU Denison

Excitement reigns! Beta Tau's little white house is no longer little. Our loyal alumnae made their plans, set to work, and had many longed-for improvements well on the way to completion by the time the chapter returned in September. In the spacious, high-ceilinged ballroom we can entertain in comfort. But of equal importance are the large chapter room, spick-and-span kitchen (sporting the most intriguing linoleum), and a necessary serving-table. Naturally, we're all looking forward to a busy season, socially.

A distinctive honor for Beta Tau is the engraving of her name on the inter-sorority scholarship cup as a reward for highest scholastic ranking during three semesters. A few individual scholastic attainments account largely for this honor. Carlyn Ashley, Viva Barton, Harriett Herron, Sally Menaul, Gladys Merchant, Betty Lou Teegardin, Louise Wagner, and Jane Young made annual honors. Louise Wagner made straight "A" for the entire year. Barbara Taylor was elected to Phi society, freshman scholastic. Mary Jane Keeling received departmental honors in modern languages.

May Day Mary Jane Keeling presided as May Queen (an honor held by a Theta the preceding year). During the exercises Jean Lindstrom and Gladys Merchant were elected to Cap and gown, activity honorary for senior women.

Louise Wagner, Harriett Herron, Mary K. Deckman, and Katherine Kelly were tapped by Crossed keys, junior honorary for women corresponding to Cap and gown.

Once more we are in the throes of a new rushing system: three weeks of open house (during which two week-end parties are to be given by each group) followed by two days of silence, with pledging October 8.

September 28 we gave a Dutch party—typical in decorations, costumes, entertainment, and refreshments.

Members of the graduating class of 1934 were Eunice Ann Adams, Mary J. Keeling, Barbara Shepard, and Betty Lou Teegardin. We are glad to welcome Grace Montgomery, Alpha Gamma, and to have Helen Hess and Nancy Petty with us again.

JANE YOUNG

29 September 1934

Married: Jane Woodyard to Richard R. Kruse. 915 State st. Ann Arbor, Mich.—Dorothy Moor Levering to J. R. Lawrence. Big Spring, Tex.—Sue Helbing to Bernard Bontekoe. Bloemendaal 1sche Straatweg 3A, Santpoort, Holland.

New addresses: Marjorie Norman Cochran (Mrs Paul A.) 57 Dodge av. Akron, Ohio.—Elizabeth Martin Hatch Osmer (Mrs W. Walton) 2612 N. 3rd st. Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.—Mary Sweet, 4458 Forest Park blvd. St. Louis, Mo.

BETA UPSILON British Columbia

The party on May 12, honoring the graduating class, took the form of a breakfast at Point Grey golf club. The graduates, Grace Thrower, Helen Reid, and Muriel Christie were presented with engraved silver coffee spoons.

Our camp at Crescent Beach opened May 13 and lasted till the end of the month. As usual it was popular with both actives and alumnae.

In order to assist our alumnae in their philanthropic work we have all been sewing and knitting articles.

We enjoyed meeting Madeline Austin and Julia Tuttle from Beta Chi. Visiting us at the same time was a Beta Chi alumna, Jean Reed, who has since returned to the Theta colony in Shanghai. Ruth Bowers, Beta Delta, was another of our summer visitors whom we hope to see again.

Beatrice Stuart has returned to Vancouver and is a dietitian at Vancouver general hospital.

Grace Thrower is doing newspaper work on the staff of The Vancouver Daily Province. Helen Reid is returning to University for teacher's training course. Margaret Little, who completed her M.A. last year, is also returning to continue postgraduate work. Mary Thomson and Kathleen Taylor have entered the General hospital working toward their degree in Arts science and nursing. We are sorry to lose two juniors, Nancy Islip and Beryl Weeks, who are not returning to university.

We have taken an apartment on campus for chapter rooms. We have managed to furnish the suite nicely without appealing to the alumnae.

Rushing starts in accordance with new rules on September 26 with a tea at the home of Muriel Christie. We are adopting the mock-wedding party suggested at convention, the reception will be at Jean Henderson's. Our final party October 14 is to be a formal tea at the home of Kathleen Taylor.

MOLLIE EAKINS

26 September 1934

Married: Lillian Mathers to Patrick O'Reilly Bird.—Alice Smith to Ralph Argue, Z Ψ.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Aubrey Gross (Margery Kirk) a daughter.—To Mr and Mrs Harry Butler (Bernice Roberts) a son.—To Mr and Mrs Harry Cotterell (Grace Teetzel) a daughter.

Engaged: Jean Holland to Robert Smith.

New address: Kathleen Taylor, 1598 Marpole av. Vancouver, B.C.

BETA PHI Penn State

Beta Phi is proud to announce that fifteen sophomores were pledged to Theta September 26. The occasion was celebrated with a buffet supper given by town alumnae. The pledges are Sarah Bushong, Sinking Spring; Elizabeth Claudy, Bellefonte; M. May Dunaway, Elizabeth E. Fisher (sister of Marjorie Fisher) Mary Louise Frear, Elizabeth J. McFarland (daughter of Martha Pittenger McFarland, Kappa) State College; Jean C. Hoover, Glen Mills; Jean C. Kriebel, North Wales; Harriet L. Lamb, Natalie; Lillian J. Lawyer, Littlestown; Virginia W. Loveland (sister of Isabelle Loveland) Athens; B. Lynette Pease, Bay Village, Ohio; Mary Frances Pomeroy (sister of Eleanor Pomeroy Byrem) Troy; Mary S. Swope, Hanover; and Jane E. Woolridge, Clearfield.

Our three parties allowed during the formal rushing period were, a scavenger hunt followed by musical entertainment and refreshments; a chocolate waffle party with a musical program; and a Kit Kat carnival—with all the trimmings from Bingo to pink lemonade.

Second semester rushing has been accepted at Penn State, so we are even now preparing for this second rushing period, according to plans of Elizabeth Diffenderfer, rushing chairman.

Attractive new wall paper and draperies—gifts of the college—adorned the Theta house when we returned this fall. They were a much needed improvement and we've a suspicion that they played their part in rushing.

In addition to the list of interesting reports which Lucille Hansen brought back from convention were several snappy songs which we have learned and tried out on our rushees.

Beta Phi is not a bit hesitant to announce that she raised her scholarship average from 1.4 to 1.8 during last semester and fully intends to keep it on the upswing.

FRANCES TURNER

26 September 1934

Married: Janet Hunt to Sidney E. Parry jr. 129 Parsonage st. Pittston, Pa.—Edith Orton to William Elerich, Δ T, State College, Pa.—Eleanor Dutton to Bruce Baldwin jr. 4635 Castor av. Frankfort, Pa.—Jessie H. Schantz to Sherwood Lewis Reedler.—Martha Engle Lindemuth to Arthur Charles Mayer, Aug. 1. R.D. 1 Mount Joy, Pa.

Born: To Mr and Mrs D. F. Herwick (Isobel O. Hansen) a son, Donald Floyd jr. 1617 B st. S.E. Washington, D.C.—To Mr and Mrs Darwin S. Harter (Gertrude Toewe) a daughter.—To Mr and Mrs Ralph Bayfield (Caroline Hahman) a son, Ralph Wesley.—To Mr and Mrs Russel H. Crout-hamel (Carolyn Apple) a daughter.

New addresses: Lillie Kell, 200 Township Line, Lanerch, Pa.—Edith Oehme Seltzer (Mrs T. H.) 19 Oakbourne rd. West Chester, Pa.

BETA CHI Alberta

The most sensational news that we have is about our new house. It is a trim white colonial house with green shutters. It is furnished so attractively. We have ample room for eight girls and a housemother. We should even like to rave about our black and white tiled bathroom if it were not indelicate. Best of all, it is actually ours for two years at least.

The chapter scholarship was gratifyingly high last year. We are proud of Flora Macleod and Mary Slaterry, who both had first class standings and received a fifty dollar scholarship. Hazel Sutherland and Margaret Rinman tied for the prize given by the Philosophical society for the highest standing in Latin.

Rushing is the first two weeks of the session. We expect Molly Buchanan fresh from convention to be brimming with ideas. There are wonderful things of which she tells us. Mrs Bathke, District president, and Janet Poore, president of Upsilon, are to be our guests the last few days of rushing; of course that bolsters our spirits immensely.

All in all, with a brand new house and optimistic hopes for a successful rush, we may look forward to a pleasant year.

HELEN HENDERSON

25 September 1934

BETA PSI McGill

Beta Psi has started back in full swing. Half the members are frantically waving paint brushes, while the other half stand by and give suggestions. In fact the apartment is hardly recognizable. The furniture is strewn about, curtains are down, and the floor is covered with cushions which provide seating accommodation while the chairs are covered with fresh apple-green paint, lovely to behold but a distinct danger to approach. In other words we are preparing for rushing.

The committee appointed to look after this important part of fraternity activity holds innumerable meetings, smokes countless cigarettes, and threshes out the possibilities of every conceivable form of entertainment. At last they have drawn up a program which should gladden the heart of any rushee.

October 7 opens the rushing season with a fanfare in the form of a tea. Tuesday night we intend to have a treasure hunt, and Thursday afternoon, a picnic about twenty miles out of town at the summer home of Rita Mac-loughlin. Having thus convinced the unsuspecting rushees that they will have a good time, we hold our mighty event, a formal dance on Monday night with a series of dinners beforehand. Then, to relieve the strain of the last night and to descend from the sublime as it were, we intend to have a circus, although it must be admitted that plans for this are still vague in the minds of the rushing committee and hence in that of the editor.

Mrs Sinclair, Grand vice-president, has accepted our invitation to help us again as she did last year. The chapter feels greatly relieved and thankful, for Mrs Sinclair proved of invaluable assistance last year during the same trying period, besides feeling very glad to see her, and she promised to bring Jessie Fleming, Sigma's convention delegate with her.

The chapter is delighted to welcome Relief Williams back into the fold. She is doing graduate work at the university. Mary Jean Grant is also back doing graduate work.

EILEEN MULLALY

1 October 1934

Married: Frances Stephens to Murray Ballantine, June 27.—Gwen Hall to John Symington, Sept. 8.

BETA OMEGA Colorado College

After a week of rushing we pledged September 21 Ruth Dupree, Walsenburg; Justine Paterson, Larkspur; Margaret Jane Hair, Pueblo; and Gwendolyn Loser, Monte Vista. A number of girls from Beta Gamma as well as Denver and Colorado Springs alumnae helped us during rush week. We are glad to have Ruth Counter, Beta Gamma, in the chapter.

Our new lodge has surpassed all expectations. We aren't just bragging in saying it's the best looking one on campus. The panelled living-room with its bay window and big fireplace is just perfect. The kite is worked into the panelling over the fireplace and the furnishings include a beautiful rosewood grand piano. Black and gold is the color scheme of the men's lounge which also serves as a study room. The ladies' lounge is lovely in yellow, and the kitchen is white with red trimmings.

We greatly enjoyed the visits of Mrs Kircher in April and Mrs Curry Carroll in September.

Martha Kelly, Marie Hoag, Helen Margaret Shaw, and Eleanor Young graduated in June. Nancy Rothrock went to the University of Colorado, Marybel Poer to U.C.L.A. and Ann Espe to the University of New Mexico. Ruth Adams, Elizabeth Evans, Ruth Mary Webster, and Martha Statton are not returning.

Katherine Ragle won a Perkins scholarship for having one of the four highest averages of the sophomores for their first two years of work.

Lucille Hampton is secretary of A.W.S. Lucille Swartz is on the Associated students board and is president of Bemis hall. Florence Robinson is vice-president of Quadrangle association. Marion Marriott had a part in the Koshare road show, Three taps at twelve.

Open-house will be September 30.

ELIZABETH RAYNER

26 September 1934

Married: Lewis Wiley to Walter Schmidt, June 2. Address: 756 Colorado blvd. Denver.—Eva Lamar to Edward Cass, $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. 203 Cheyenne av. Colorado Springs, Colo.—Patricia May to Arlie J. Simmonds.—Melba Adams to C. E. Mohler. 817 Cascade, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Jean Johnson and Helen Margaret Shaw are teaching in Hartseo, Colo.

New address: Miriam S. Leach (Mrs J. W.) apt. B 5, 1212 Delaware av. Wilmington, Del.

GAMMA GAMMA Rollins

Gamma Gamma is beginning its third year with promise of great success.

Registration is fifteen per cent greater than last year, and the new students seem to be an unusually fine group, coming from the finest prep schools in the country. So, with all of our chapter back except one girl, and the house redecorated inside and out, we are indeed enthusiastic. And we are glad to welcome Mrs Moore, District president, for a visit.

This is the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Rollins. Plans are being made for various appropriate ceremonies. Many distinguished men and women from all over the world are expected to be in attendance at college at the commemoration of historic events.

In addition to our regular winter sports of swimming, golf, and tennis, we are including riding and expect to have both a boys' and a girls' polo team.

Anna Jeanne Pendexter, our delegate to convention, spent part of her summer at her home in Green Lake, Wisconsin, but took time off to visit Jeanette Lichtenstein and Ann Lawr in St. Louis.

Louise Macpherson roughed it in the woods of northern Michigan. Jane McCulloch spent her summer on the north shore of Boston at Magnolia. Ruth Dawson listened to the wild waves at Brightwater, Long Island. Ruth Errant chose New York City for her holiday. Sally Limerick spent a very profitable summer working in New York on the Review of reviews. We are proud of our Sal, for she had a signed article, White Power in the Northwest, in the August issue.

Ann Lowry is leaving us to attend school in Boston. We are sorry that Edith Brown is ill at her home in Winter Park and will not be able to join us for rushing. Nancy Gantt who was with us part of last year is entering Barnard. Rosemand Carson taught riding in a camp in Minnesota and then toured the country but has returned to us for rushing.

Ambitious Writers Attention!

Formal, a new monthly magazine for college Greeks, first issued in October, invites student writers, poets, humorists and cartoonists to submit their work for consideration.

Formal aims to be a high-type college magazine of personal interest to fraternity men and women. It is not another humor magazine. Its editorial content features undergraduate writers in addition to professional contributors.

Students wishing to submit manuscript on fiction, non-fiction, poetry, prose, humor, or cartoons are requested to send this material to Formal publishing company, 505 Fifth avenue, New York, accompanied by an addressed stamped envelope to insure return of material not accepted. All manuscript accepted will be paid for on date of publication at a rate based on the merit of the material and becomes the property of the publisher.

Undergraduates wishing to act as campus sales representatives for Formal on a liberal commission basis, are requested to get in touch with the publishers. In most cases, there is only one representative to a college.

Undergraduate loans: For information regarding undergraduate loans, and application blanks, address the corresponding secretary, Helen Pratt.

Graduate grants: For information regarding fellowships, address Washington, D.C. alumnae chapter.

Loans are made for $50 and larger amounts. Interest is 4 per cent payable annually. Security is required, i.e. endorsement of note by two financially responsible parties. Loans are payable within two years after the beneficiary has left college. Payments may be made in monthly installments. A personal letter explaining fully and unusual circumstances will greatly assist the committee in a prompt consideration of an application for a loan.

All checks, whether for interest, loans, or gifts to the Fund, should be made payable to Los Angeles alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta and sent to the Financial secretary, Miss Ray Hanna, 3308 W. 23rd st. Los Angeles, Calif.

A gift to the Fund is a gift to Kappa Alpha Theta in perpetuity. It is never spent; it will come in and go out innumerable times; and its value to the present and future members and to the fraternity as a whole is incalculable.

RECOMMENDED HOTELS

ALUMNÆ chapters recommend these hotels or clubs throughout the United States for the use of traveling Thetas. In these hotels a register or index of the Thetas resident in those cities is maintained, such register being available for use by fraternity guests. We trust that our members will avail themselves of the plan, will find the recommended hotels satisfactory, and the plan will bring Thetas together to their mutual satisfaction and enjoyment.
